Taft Asks Business, Labor Cooperate to Avoid Slump

Apartment House On Fair Street Sold

Former Canfield Residence Purchased by Local Holding Company

The apartment premises located at 204 Fair street, owned by William and Harriet Engelen, changed hands Wednesday in one of the largest real estate transactions in this portion of town in some time.

The premises, formerly the home of the late Mayor Palmer Canfield, Jr., and later occupied by the Hackett Sanitarium, was sold by the present owners to the Ingham Holding Corporation of 914 Main street, of which Robert G. Ingham, of this city, is president and Ellsworth Coleman of Downs street is secretary. Mr. Ingham formerly resided at Stone Island.

While no price was made public it is understood the sale price was in the neighborhood of $35,000. John A. Cole, Inc., of 228 Wall street, was the broker.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Engelen remodeled the premises and installed three apartments and three suites which have been leased to doctors. The building is a two-story and basement brick structure, all modernly equipped.

Joseph Avis represented the owners in the transaction and John E. Egan was attorney for the purchaser. The sale was made as to the intent of the new owners but it is understood that the premises were purchased as an investment.

A second piece of residential property which was sold recently in Kingston is the George J. Whittle double house at 116 Franklin street which was also bought by the Ingham corporation. John E. Egan also appeared for the purchasers in that transaction.

Demonstrations Break Out

Rome, Dec. 19 (AP)—Demonstrations against soaring food prices broke out in Florence today as a general strike which paralyzed the capital region for two days was called off at noon by the Chamber of Labor. Press dispatches reported Florence housewives stormed several market districts, overturning food carts. The Naples Chamber of Labor, whose representatives conferred with government officials all night, announced in a broadcast that it was decided to call off the dogs and to empower "agitation committees" to keep pressing the government for relief measures.

Palestine Proposal

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—The American League for a Free Palestine, which claims a membership of 150,000 American citizens, proposed today the formation of a provisional government for a Hebrew Republic of Palestine and suggested that the Zionist Movement be reorganized on a non-sectarian basis. This plan was contained in a letter from Guy M. Pelletie, president of the league and former U. S. Senator, to Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the World Zionist Congress, now meeting at Basle, Switzerland.

Anderson Sentenced

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—James Anderson, 44, a Negro, who pleaded guilty on Nov. 15 to second degree murder in the stabbing of another youth, was sentenced today in Bronx County Court to the New York State Training School for Boys at Warwick. Anderson, who had been indicted for murder in the first degree, was accused of killing Isaac Gibson, 26, by plunging a Japanese combat knife into Gibson's heart after both had left a party.

Truman to Make Trip

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—President Truman will fly to Independence, Mo., on Christmas Day for a 24-hour stay with his family.

Says Truman, Should Have Stressed This Angle More in First Report

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) today called on business to keep prices down and on labor to refrain from "unreasonable" wage demands to avoid any possible economic recession in 1947.

Taft, who heads the policy-making Republican Steering Committee of the Senate, told a reporter he thinks President Truman's economic advisers should have placed more stress in their first annual report on the "irreparable responsibility" of labor and management to keep prices and wages in line.

Mr. Truman, who made the report public at his news conference yesterday, said he was in agreement with his advisers' suggestion that there may be a "dip" in business next year.

The outlook for the country is good and will continue to be good, the Chief Executive told a questioner, if we can just get people to stay at work. He added that nobody wants any strikes at all, that he didn't think any of the recent ones were necessary.

The president said he will make specific recommendations to Congress on legislation to carry out the proposals of his advisers, who cautioned that a more than ordinarily favorable outlook for jobs and production in the next few years ought not to lull government officials into a "drifting" policy.

When a reporter remarked that the economic council's report seemed to indicate not much legislation would be necessary next year, Mr. Truman said he was glad to hear that.

The council, set up by Congress earlier in the year, is headed by Dr. Edwin C. Nourse.

Agrees With Council

As a member of the Senate House Committee charged with acting on the President's economic recommendations before February 1, Taft said he is in accord with the council's observation that any threatened setback can be overcome by "courageous and sensible action" on the part of business and labor.

"It is encouraging to find a government commission stating so soundly the general principles underlying continued employment and prosperity," the Ohio senator commented, "but I doubt if it lays sufficient stress on the tremendous responsibility resting on business to keep its prices down on labor to refrain from unreasonable wage demands."

The former postmaster general, discussing Democratic politics on his return from a trip around the world, was asked at a news conference yesterday to give his opinion on the outlook for the presidential election in view of the Republican successes on November 5.

"While just at present it may look dark for the Democratic viewpoint," he said, "I personally don't think the outlook is hopeless. The result in 1948 will depend in large measure upon the leadership of President Truman and the Democratic congressional leaders and the manner in which the Republican majorities in the Senate and House perform."

He added: "The Democratic national organization in my judgment will

Woodstock Places Change Titles in Deals This Week

Well-Known Hotel Sold, Also Bears Ville Store; Sites Landmarks

Two old landmarks in the town of Woodstock have changed hands this week. Wednesday the Woodstock Hotel on the square at Woodstock was sold by the Long-year heirs to Earl C. Snyder, formerly of Kingston, who has operated the hotel for the past four years.

Also transferred this week was the famous old Bearsville store at Bearsville, which was sold by Frank Shults and his children to Edmund F. Coffey, Newark, N. J., textile man.

Both of the properties are well known landmarks and are known throughout the Hudson valley.

For the past four years Mr. Snyder has been operating the Woodstock Hotel under lease and since he took over the premises he has made many improvements to the property and will now, as owner, make additional changes to make it one of the finest rural hotels in the Catskill mountain area. Included in the sale of the hotel were outbuildings and a large garage at the rear.

The hotel itself has long been recognized as one of the outstanding rural hotels of this area. Located in the hotel building is a beauty shop.

Estimated Price $25,000

While no statement was made by the purchaser as to the price paid, it is understood that it was $25,000.

Owners of the premises at this time were Stanley B. Longyear, Kenneth L. Wilson, Emily Longyear, Janet Dixon, Louis R. Wilson, Samuel H. Wilson and Margaret Berryman.

The new purchaser is a son of the late Martin Snyder, for many years engaged in the automotive business in Kingston and is a brother of Carl and Ralph Snyder both of this city.

Representing the sellers was John E. Egan, H. Westlake Coons of Ellenville appeared for the purchaser.

$15,000 for Store

The Bearsville store, one of the most famous old time general stores in this locality where in years past practically every item known for home or personal use could be purchased, was sold by Frank Shults, his son, Thomas G. Shults, and his two daughters, Edna Shults and Mae B. Haro, to Edmund F. Coffey who for years has maintained a summer home in Bearsville. It is understood that the purchase price was $15,000.

Sale of the store premises includes about an acre of land lying adjacent to the store.

Choice of Halleck Emphasizes Taft And Dewey Battle

Disagreement on Leader of House Reflects Bitter Scrap for '48 Nomination

By HAL REED

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 19 (AP)—Governor Dewey threw down the gage of battle with Sen. Robert A. Taft today in the developing fight for the 1948 Republican presidential nomination by his unqualified support of Rep. Charles E. Halleck for majority leader of the House.

Dewey's statement that he favored the Indiana Republican for the post came after a four-hour conference here yesterday with New York's G.O.P. delegation in Congress.

It brought into sharper focus the struggle over the party's national leadership between Dewey and Taft who, along with U.S. Senator-Elect John W. Bricker, is understood to favor the candidacy of Rep. Clarence J. Brown, a fellow Ohioan.

Dewey's support of Halleck was expressed at a news conference in which he parried questions concerning his plans in the 1948 race.

Certainly Not, the Answer Asked whether he was "ready" to announce his candidacy for the presidential nomination, Dewey, unsuccessful G.O.P. nominee in 1944, replied "Certainly not."

"Certainly not ready?" a reporter suggested.

"Certainly not period," he said, laughing.

Last week Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins of Ohio, an announced candidate for majority leader, hit at "outside interference" and said "I deplore any presidential aspirant controlling the activities of Congress which has enough to do without interference from non-members."

Dewey's luncheon meeting with the delegation at the executive mansion continued until dusk.

The governor, asked if politics was discussed, said, "None at all," then added:

Always Favored Halleck

"Oh yes, there was some talk about the next floor leader and everybody agreed that Halleck would be elected."

"Personally I have always favored Halleck," Dewey said. "That is well known. It is no secret."

Three Republican state leaders entered the mansion before the meeting adjourned, but the governor said their visit had no connection with the congressional conference. They were State Chairman Glen R. Bedenkapp; J. Russell Sprague, national committeeman; and Miss Jane H. Todd, state vice-chairman.

Later last night, at dinner, Dewey conferred with legislative leaders about his annual message to the legislature which convenes January 8.

No Comment

The congressmen, leaving the mansion, had no comment on their visit and referred newsmen to Dewey who, they said, would make the announcement on subjects discussed.

Dewey said the session was his first with a New York congressional delegation, but he always had tried to keep in touch with the state's leaders in Congress on matters pertaining to the state.

He labelled it "a constructive meeting" and said he would "like more."

The governor said there was

Teachers From 5 Rural Townships Ask More Wages

Favor $2,400 Salary With $150 Increments; Ask Same Consideration as Other Teachers

At a meeting this week teachers from five townships in the first supervisory district of the county voted unanimously to support and work for the New York State Teachers' Association proposal salary legislation designed to provide a minimum salary of $2,400 a year with at least eight annual increments of not less than $150.

Teachers at the meeting held in the Hurley school on Tuesday represented schools in the townships of Hurley, Saugerties, Ulster, Kingston and Rosendale. At the session it was brought out that there should be no discrimination in salaries between the teachers in small rural schools and those in larger school units because instructors in rural schools have many grades and many subjects.

This resolution was adopted at the meeting: "That the executive committee and the executive secretary of the New York State Teachers' Association continue to make every effort to secure the passage of legislation which will provide a minimum salary of $2,400 with at least eight annual increments of not less than $150 for every teacher in the public schools of this state, and every teacher be placed on the schedule according to his experience."

The first supervisory district also voted to invite the other three supervisory districts in the county to unite with it in a concerted move to advance the low salaries of the rural teachers in Ulster county. It was further brought out that since June 30, the cost of living has risen 56 per cent and is still rising and that the rural teachers have received little since the beginning of the war in way of salary increase.

Second Bus Crash in South Causes Death, Four Hurt

Dead Man Was Occupant of Truck; School Bus Involved in Wreck

Columbia, S. C., Dec. 19 (AP)—One man was killed, another badly injured and three school children slightly hurt in the collision of a lumber truck and a school bus near White Rock, a village 18 miles northwest of here today.

The dead man was Sam Rowe, an occupant of the truck. J. Earl Wessinger, the bus driver, was brought to a hospital here where his condition was reported serious. Eight other men on the truck were unhurt.

Three grammar school pupils, brothers, were bruised and had teeth knocked out. They are O'Neale, 6, Laverne, 8, and Leonard, 10. No others were required hospital treatment.

The accident occurred near Spring Hill School toward which the bus with a full load of pupils was headed.

The scene was only about 20 miles from Silverstreet, near where ten children and the driver of a school bus were killed yesterday in a collision with a Southern Railway passenger train.

White Rock is a village in this (Richland) county, a short distance from Chapin, a Lexington county village.

Hoe Says Bill Will Be Offered in Next Legislature Under B. A. Auspices

Members of the Steering Committee of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge Committee will meet at the Governor Clinton at 4 o'clock today to take action on a report submitted by county chairmen of the Bridge Committee, George E. Terry Jr. of Kingston; and Lewis F. Winne, of Rhinebeck.

The report covers a recent meeting between Mr. Terry and Mr. Winne and members of the New York State Bridge Authority held in Poughkeepsie relative to the drafting of a bill to erect a bridge between Kingston and Rhinecliff.

The report follows:

"Robert L. Hoe, chairman of the Bridge Authority, informed the members of the Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge Committee that a bill was to be offered to the legislature and sponsored by the Bridge Authority which he believed would overcome all the objections, which seemed to appear in the bills previously presented. The objections caused the governor to veto the bills."

"The Kingston-Rhinecliff Bridge Committee feels when it is successful in enlisting the aid of a large number of members on both sides of the river to stress the need and importance of a bridge crossing the Hudson river between Kingston and Rhinecliff, that the bill will receive favorable action on the part of the legislature and the approval of the governor, in view of the encouragement received from the Bridge Authority."

"In view of the willingness expressed by the New York State Bridge Authority to sponsor the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge bill, the local committees are now launching a campaign to secure the aid of everyone interested in the building of the bridge."

Dudrey Is Caught A.W.O.L. in City

Jail Trusty, 41, Free From 5:20 P.M. to 3 A.M.; in for Robbery

Maybe it was just an urge to do some Christmas shopping or maybe he got fed up with the set-up. In any event, Kenneth Dudrey, 41-year-old county jail trusty tossed quite a scare into the court house staff by taking an unauthorized stroll late Wednesday afternoon.

Dudrey, who is serving a year's sentence for unlawful entry, enjoyed his A.W.O.L. status from 5:20 last evening until 3 a. m. this morning when he was picked up by a police patrol on central Broadway.

The trusty had been given outside privileges by Sheriff George C. Smith only the day before yesterday. He is back in jail today with the strong likelihood that his incarceration will be of a mere restrained nature in the future, the sheriff said.

Dudrey, who hails from Olive Bridge, was sent out to lower the flag from the court house yard pole at 5:20. Not only did he fail to take down Old Glory but

Bilbo Says His Gifts Came From 'Real Friends' and With No Strings

Calls Report 'Lie'

Says Doctor Did Not Turn Over $1,500 From Addict

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—Lashing out bitterly at an ex-secretary whom he described as a "Judas Iscariot," Senator Bilbo (D-Miss.) declared today it is an "old southern custom" to give presents to public servants.

Bilbo denied before a Senate war investigating subcommittee that he had sought gifts or funds, "with the possible exception of the money that I borrowed to make a property settlement with my ex-wife." The subcommittee is inquiring into his relations with war contractors.

In a 10,000 word statement, "The Man" Bilbo heaped invective upon his former secretary, Edward P. Terry, who testified against him yesterday, and on former Rep. Ross Collins, a Mississippi political foe.

Bilbo said the evidence to date showed that "I am a very poor man and heavily involved in debt and that I received during all the period that the investigation has covered but two Christmas gifts, one an automobile and the other a living room furniture consisting of a sofa, three floor lamps and two table lamps."

Terry told yesterday of presenting a $1,912 new automobile to Bilbo on behalf of Michael T. Morrissey, a war contractor.

From 'Real Friends' In his statement, Bilbo declared that he came to know Morrissey and they came without any strings or obligations whatsoever.

"In fact as to the car it has been a custom not only in Mississippi but throughout the country to make presents to citizens who have been honored by their people," he said.

Bilbo referred to his former secretary, Terry, as "the modern Benedict Arnold" and a "Judas Iscariot," he added:

"I do not know whether to pity or blame because I sometimes think that he has a mental illness of imaginary grandeur and impossible hallucinations."

"Christ had his Judas Iscariot; Caesar had his Brutus; George Washington had his Benedict Arnold, but I claim to have had the greatest traitor of them in my trusted secretary," Bilbo read from his statement.

He denounced as "a lie" Terry's assertion yesterday that a doctor had turned over to Bilbo $1,500 collected from a drug addict for a prescription.

"Greatest Betrayal" Bilbo said Terry's "greatest act of betrayal" was his statement to the committee yesterday that he accepted $15,000 and the promise of $100,000 more from "one of the leading Communists within the United States to be used in putting the late Gov. Bailey of my state, or anybody else that he could find that would make the race, into the race for the United States Senate against me in the campaign of 1946."

He referred to Terry's testimony that the late Simon Liberman of New York city, a Russian immigrant, had given him the $15,000 and that he had returned it to Liberman when he was unable to find anyone to make the race.

Sensor Ferguson (R-Mich.), cross-examined Terry, brought out that Liberman had died several months before the date Terry claimed to have returned the money to him.

Orders Secretary Cited Chairman Mead (D-N.Y.) then ordered the former secretary cited for contempt and possible perjury actions. Terry was on hand again this morning, with his lawyer.

Bilbo asserted that Terry removed "42 files from my office" when he quit as secretary last

Farley Thinks Democrats Can Recoup In 1948 by 'Infusing' New Blood

New York, Dec. 18 (AP)—James A. Farley, former Democratic national chairman, believes that the Democratic party can make a real fight in 1948, "if new blood is infused" in the organization.

The former postmaster general, discussing Democratic politics on his return from a trip around the world, was asked at a news conference yesterday to give his opinion on the outlook for the presidential election in view of the Republican successes on November 5.

"While just at present it may look dark for the Democratic viewpoint," he said, "I personally don't think the outlook is hopeless. The result in 1948 will depend in large measure upon the leadership of President Truman and the Democratic congressional leaders and the manner in which the Republican majorities in the Senate and House perform."

He added: "The Democratic national organization in my judgment will strengthened as will the state organizations in many of the states in the north, as well as many county and city organizations. Persons in administrative posts in whom the people have lost confidence must step aside.

"If new blood is infused and aggressive, competent leadership is installed from the top down, where the party is weak, a real fight can be made in 1948. I believe that the Democratic party, with proper leadership, will have the confidence of the people."

"The Republicans in my judgment were at their peak on Nov. 5."

Farley, now chairman of the board of the Coca Cola Export Corp., emphasized that he was not and never would be interested in returning as Democratic national chairman.

"I gave eight of the best years of my life without regret to that very honorable position and never would be interested in filling it again," he said. "As a Democrat,

I always will be interested in the success of the party and its nominees."

"In no circumstances would I serve again as state chairman, a post I filled for 14 years."

Referring to the Democratic defeat in New York state, Farley said he believed "the Democratic state organization needs reorganization. I say without any personal feeling in the matter that the leaders forced upon the convention (U. S. Sen. James) Mead as a nominee when there was never a chance for him to win."

"They closed the doors many months before the state convention upon any other candidate for governor," Farley said. "The leaders of the less populous counties, against their judgment, had to go along. Because of this action, they cannot expect county workers and hundreds of thousands of other Democrats to have confidence in the continuation of their leadership."

Quiet Meeting May Signal Overtures to John L. Lewis

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—Spokesmen for major sections of the soft coal industry arranged a quiet meeting today, touching off reports of a move to reopen contract negotiations with John L. Lewis.

Although the representatives would not confirm the reports that they would discuss resumption of talks with the United Mine Workers' president, other industry and government officials suggested that such a gathering could hardly overlook the subject.

Lewis was reported by associates to be visiting his aged mother in Springfield, Ill., where he has a home. They were non-committal about prospects of his getting together with the operators.

Some officials believe the operators, on the sidelines during the recent soft coal strike and legal battle, might find Lewis more agreeable to negotiating with them now because:

Lewis lost his big push for a new contract with the government. Instead, he was found in contempt of court for trying to terminate his present contract with the government, and now is fighting in the Supreme Court fines of $10,000 against himself and $3,500,000 against the U.M.W.

A contract with private operators now would remove the threat of a new walkout March 31, which was inherent in Lewis' letter to the 400,000 bituminous miners calling off the November 21-December 7 strike. This in turn might ease the tension surrounding the Supreme Court's hearing in his case January 14, and lessen demands for restrictive legislation in the new Congress convening January 3.

Because of this combination of circumstances, some observers believe the operators now are in a better position to negotiate with Lewis than they have been at any time in the past 15 years.

Appointments Are Made In County Health Setup

At a meeting of the County Health Commissioners held last evening Miss Elinor Schultes, public health nurse in Greene county for the past year, was named a supervisory nurse to assist Miss Adele Didrickson who was named director of public nursing at a prior meeting. Miss Schultes served as a captain in the Army Nursing Corps. A resolution was also passed deputizing for the issuance of milk permits, all existing health officers of the county. These officials will have authority to issue permits for 1947 up to March 1947 when the issuance of permits will be taken over by the new Board. During the session there were discussions on several health problems and decisions made as to policy. The following clerical staff of the district office was appointed to similar positions in the County Health Department: Miss Bernice Bedford of Kingston; Miss Ann Weisenberger of Rosendale; Miss Edna Ten Hagen of High Falls and Miss Maida Richens of Kingston. Before Commodore Perry visited Japan, Yokohama was a fishing village of 100 families.

Favorable Outlook
Predicted for Jobs
And Industry in '47

Washington, Dec. 18 (AP)—The President's Council of Economic Advisers today predicted a "more than ordinarily favorable" outlook for jobs and production for "some years ahead."

A temporary "dip" may come in 1947, the board of three economists told President Truman, but "encouraging and possible" action by business and labor can hold the recession to "moderate proportions, if not avert it."

The report was the first submitted by the high economic advisory body created by the Employment Act of 1946, and headed by Dr. Edwin G. Nourse. The council is instructed to report on economic trends and advise on legislative and executive steps which will contribute to "maximum employment, production, and purchasing power."

After next year's possible recession, the report said, "broad basic conditions suggest that it will be easy to have some years of high production, employment, and purchasing power without the display of any extraordinary economic statesmanship by leaders of industry, labor, farming and finance."

Yet a policy of drifting in those years, or of being content with less than nationwide high production, the council cautioned, could bring on a subsequent period of "serious unemployment, underproduction and want."

Time to Avert Peak

There is enough time, the report held, to chart a course of action which will avert that peril and not only "raise the national prosperity to new high levels but * * * maintain those levels with a degree of stability which has not characterized the earlier exploratory and speculative decades of our industrial life."

This promise of a long-term future free from the swings of boom and depression must be based, the council indicated, on a foundation of "free competitive enterprise" with the government in a supporting and spark-plugging role. The economists added:

Depends on Wisdom

"We suggest that the impediments to prosperity in the near future are of the sort that must be worked out, without benefit of direct government intervention, through the practical wisdom of management and labor, farmers and financiers."

The report sketched an economic background for the council's confidential report to Mr. Truman which will be used in preparing his own economic report to the new Congress, to be delivered after the traditional state-of-the-union and budget messages.

Mr. Truman's report, in turn, will be referred to the joint committee of Congress on the economic report. That committee is charged with drafting specific legislation for submission to Congress by February 1.

Artificial Hopes

The prospect for high employment and production in the near future is good but its bases are somewhat artificial, the council found, since they depend on a backlog of demand growing out of the war.

"Everybody without a house or car wants one this year," the report said. "The success of '47 and '48 is gauged by our ability to make and sell 6,000,000 cars, 1,500,000 housing units * * *"

"But the closer we come to this standard of performance in the immediate future, the more pressing becomes the problem of sustaining employment, production and purchasing power in the years that follow."

Color of Truth

Chicago (AP)—They're putting the finishing touches on the picture of postwar railroad passenger comfort—fittingly enough—with paint brushes. Ralph Haman, color and design engineer, is using a lot of color in cars the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing Company is building for the Illinois Central train, City of New Orleans. Light shades of yellow, green and blue will predominate on ceilings and walls. Seats will be in tones of cedar or red; floors in blues, greens or reds.

"Entering one of these cars, the patron's first concern is selecting a seat," Haman says in explaining the decor. "The depth of color makes them stand out, inviting, almost beckoning. After being seated, however, the eyes travel to the walls and ceilings, which are peaceful and quieting. The car seems larger, brighter and brings out full powers of relaxation." Color blind passengers can just curl up with a good book.

Senator Taft Denies Any Part in Martin Resignation

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—Senator Taft (R., Ohio) today denied any responsibility for the resignation of Miss Marion Martin, insisting that he is taking no active part in the administration of Republican national committee affairs.

Taft, often mentioned as a possible G.O.P. presidential candidate in 1948, shrugged off questions about his political ambitions. But he told a reporter there is no justification for reports that he or his friends are seeking to dominate the committee setup.

"Carroll Reece didn't tell me anything about it and didn't call me beforehand if he asked for Miss Martin's resignation," as assistant chairman of the committee, the Ohio senator said.

Chairman Reece announced last night the appointment of Mrs. Jane Hamilton Macaulay, formerly chairman of the committee and head of its women's division.

He thus disposed of reports that Mrs. Macaulay's appointment would be only temporary, leaving the way clear for greater activity in the field of women's work by Mrs. Katherine Kennedy Brown of Ohio and Mrs. Horace H. Sayre of Oklahoma, committee vice chairmen who are considered Taft supporters.

Reece previously had taken occasion to deny to a reporter that there were any "presidential implications" in Miss Martin's resignation, which her friends said had been requested.

"I sacrificed a good deal to take this job," Reece said. "I'm not turning the grindstone for anybody's axe in 1948. I am not running and I have no one else running."

The question of who might run, however, continued to get attention from members of both parties, with these other developments along the political front.

1. President Truman returned a no comment answer to a news conference question as to whether he would accept renomination in 1948.

2. Senator-elect Joseph R. McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, came out for Minnesota's former Gov. Harold E. Stassen for the G.O.P. nomination, asserting that Stassen "will win."

3. James A. Farley, former national chairman, called in a New York interview for a reorganization of the Democratic party, asserting that "if new blood is infused and aggressive, competent leadership is installed from the top down to the real fight can be made in 1948."

4. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York replied "certainly not" when asked in Albany if he were ready to announce his candidacy for the 1948 G.O.P. nomination.

Far Knocking

Santa Fe, N. M. (AP)—A pesky woodpecker has posed a problem here that may boomerang on him in the end. His noisy pecking has disturbed the slumbers of Mrs. George H. Wisheart, who appealed to the state game department and city police for "protection against this nuisance." Police advised Mrs. Wisheart to apply to the district court for permission to have the woodpecker shot.

Christmastide Brings Back Happy Days to 'Old Timer'

Shokan, Dec. 18.—The Christmastide annually brings nostalgic memories to many a resident of the old village of Shokan as well as of those of several other communities whose foundation walls are now buffeted by the shifting water of the Ashokan Reservoir. These displaced persons of another era picture in the mind's eye the happy days they spent at this season—the sleighbells, Sunday school entertainments, skating parties, church suppers and kindred enjoyments—visualizing them so vividly that they seem almost to be living in two worlds at one and the same time.

Particularly in this true, the writer thinks of persons in their forties, fifties and sixties; men and women who were small children or adolescents at the turn of the century. They were living in the final phase of the horse and buggy days, and sleighbells still ring in their ears on frosty nights under the hard glitter of a million stars. These sleighbells—silver bells attached to the cutter shafts by metal straps, the little bells jangling on leather straps—suspended from the horse's ridge, and the big, deep-toned bells which swung beneath the horse's forelegs, or from the heavy sleigh-tongues—how sweetly they fall upon the ear from down through the long years!

What, you oldsters can hear sleighbells? Don't be silly, child; of course we hear them and they sound just like they did on a cold winter's night down there in the old village. Please believe us when we say that it brings a deal of added pleasure, as well as a bit of sadness, into our Christmas of today. Once upon a time, in the old village, a good woman still young in years, lay dying as her soul trembled upon the borderline between this world and that bourne from which no traveler returns, those who watched by her bed heard the whisper, repeated again and again: "I see Jesus! I hear angels sing!" No one ever doubted that this woman, smiling happily, saw and heard; no one should ever question the assertion made by those of graying heads, that their senses can and do reveal happily in the scenes and experiences of childhood days.

Happiness, then, in conjuring up sights and sounds of Christmas before the waterworks? Pleasant, too, in the smells with which our third sense has joined us to the past. We smell the big oil lamps in Ladeau Hall as we brush the snow from shoes and clothing in the lower hall and mount the steep, wide steps to the scene of a Christmas party. Our nostrils quiver in retrospect as they are greeted by savory odors of chicken and hot biscuits from the kitchen; of hickory tree and boughs, wood fires in the old box stoves, the cloying odor of sachet powder on girls and women, the steaming caps and overcoats hanging from hooks along the walls. Yes, we all have the Christmas spirit today, but only the oldsters can enjoy the added flip which our senses span the years to bring us.

The Big Moment
But harken! The chatter and small-talk of many voices has subsided; no more people are coming in now; no more chilling drafts from opening doors, and the women of the kitchen committee are grouping themselves in the back of the hall. The entertainment is about to begin, else why this sudden atmosphere of hushed expectancy? The opening prayer and hymn; a song by the school; little girls, looking like fairies in white dresses and stockings, gilt stars perched above happy faces. The boys have stopped their jostling and squirming now as they make an heroic attempt to recall the lines of their "pieces." Up the low steps to the stage they trot in turn. A recitation by Nellie Simpson, announces the superintendent (he had been a drummer-boy in the Civil War), adjusting his spectacles; "a song by four girls"; "recitation by Harry Cole, 'All Was Still in the House'."

More songs, a tableau, a playlet by big boys and girls, and so on through the long program as made up by those faithful women who untiringly had labored to bring all this pleasure to pass.

Those ladies—Mrs. J. D. Ennist, Mrs. Inez Dumont or Mrs. A. Perry Loomis, perhaps—they epitomized the virtue of patience. They had presided at rehearsals, coaxed, cajoled and almost bribed reluctant boys to learn their pieces and bashful little girls to remember their songs about "Jolly Old St. Nick." They stood ready to prompt, in a stage whisper, the faltering ones and speed the progress smoothly through to the benediction. They were not among the least to serve.

The big girls, however—Maude Cole, Ella DuBois and others—needed no prompting; their lengthy recitations were invariably rendered with the savor of the actor, the accomplished actress, while the big boys, fellows who for some time had been wearing the coveted "long pants," were funny as all get-out in the farces. Younger lads, still in "knee britches" and obviously not at ease before the footlights, often proved problem children at entertainments.

'Next on the Program'
Yes, the male hopefuls likely as not were there under pressure; they were confronted with a disagreeable chore which must be done, so small wonder that they darted upon the platform, made a jerky little bow and "wailed in" to get it over with. Red-faced, they forgot their lines, were conscious of the grins of amusement on a sea of faces, received their promptings, again made the quick bow (or forgot to do so) and rushed back to their seats. A case in point in the old days was a "Song by Four Boys," who were, as we recall it, Fred Schoonmaker, Clyde Winchell, Allen Greenway and Jay Every. The quartet possibly had been chosen because they were good-looking lads and of about the same school age—not as it turned out—for their singing abilities. The musician played invitingly, nothing happened; came a repeated encouragement by the accompanist, and more silence upon the part of the reluctant artists. The music stopped entirely at this point. The boys ceased their nervous foot-shufflings and widening glances and, as though urged by a common and inspired flash of decision, hustled themselves, willy-nilly, off that stage. Never again did those four allow themselves to be caught in a similar jam.

Moreover, we doubt if there are any virtuosos among the boys and girls today, though they do say that one of them makes out very well at singing praises of the Chevrolet. There wasn't an automobile on the roads in those days—but ah, those sleighbells. Incidentally, the "act" though deviating slightly from the script, made a great hit with the audience.

By now the blanketed horses are jangling in the sheds under the half Old Santa Clause is due, and is presently here with his bag of presents. No sleds, skates or red-topped leather boots in that pack but still and nevertheless, a satisfactory assortment of striped candy-sticks and hard candies, in little bags; the coveted orange, the like of which, for many would not be taken again till next Christmas; the white and pink popcorn balls, pencil boxes and picture books for smaller fry, together with books, neckties and handkerchiefs for the big boys and girls; something for each of the Sunday School teachers and the superintendent, and an envelope containing a money present for the pastor and his family. Utter confusion for a time, and a deal of merry chatter, before the long tables are set up and every one sits down to one of those amazingly ample Christmas suppers.

Through the Night
Follows the ride or walk home; the coaxing of sleighrunners and human feet in the snow; past houses, here and there, where some child lies desperately ill of scarlet fever, or "sore throat" (diphtheria); childhood scourges which took many a little parcel of sunshine from young couples who now watched anxiously in the darkened room or conversed softly with faithful Drs. Bloom or VanGasbeek. The doctor would remain until the crisis was over.

on this Christmas Eve or night. His charge would be no more than for the call, a dollar or two. He also stood and served. Meanwhile, those sleighbells, they would jangle and ring intermittently throughout the long, weary night, as some late wayfarer sped his red and black cutter or box-sleigh homeward bound.

Yes, young friends, your elders can conjure up scenes of old—can hear, smell and see them—and how much this retrospection upon the part of those who grew up to the tune of sleighbells adds to the pleasure (and sweet sorrow) of their Yuletide you'll never know!

50 New York Families To Be Moved by U.N.

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—A special survey conducted by the city indicated today that about 150 people in the 50 families living in the East Side area of Manhattan selected for the United Nations' new skyscraper home would have to be relocated.

Commissioner Newton T. Saxe of the Department of Housing and Buildings made the survey. He said yesterday he had sent his findings to the tenants relocation bureau.

The survey included structures in the area from 42nd to 48th street from the East River to the west side of First avenue.

China's Credit With U.S. Depends on Her Peace, Unity

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—The United States dangled an untouchable $500,000,000 credit before the government and people of China today as an inducement to establish peace and unity in that land of civil war.

In what he termed a reiteration and clarification of this government's policy toward China, President Truman said yesterday the United States still believes it is of "utmost importance to world peace" that there be a united and democratic China.

And, Mr. Truman told reporters, he hopes the $500,000,000 credit to China has not been endangered. But he said he did not wish to make a definite statement on whether it is in jeopardy. Diplomatic experts figured he meant that this government is going to hold back the $500,000,000 Export-Import Bank loan to China until all threats to world stability there are eliminated.

None of the $500,000,000 has been spent, and Mr. Truman emphasized that extension of actual credits would have to be based upon the American government's policy toward China.

This policy, as defined a year ago and repeated by Mr. Truman calls for economic assistance to the Chinese, after they have "moved toward peace and unity."

Inclusion of Communists within the government, has been our policy all along, Mr. Truman said. The United States has held that China should broaden the base of its national government to make it representative of all the Chinese people.

Originally, the statement was planned for December 15, exactly a year after Mr. Truman first laid down formally his administration's attitude toward China as a guide for Gen. George C. Marshall, the President's special envoy to that country.

Mr. Truman said yesterday that Marshall will stay on the job as long as necessary to get the desired results.

Cold Enough, but Still Well Above Zero Mark

The predicted cold wave arrived, but did not assume the proportions that had been predicted, the low for last night being 19 degrees, at 7 o'clock this morning, according to the chart at the city engineer's office.

The high for Wednesday was 40, about 1 a. m., from which time the mercury began to drop, reaching 25 at midnight last night and going on down to 19 this morning.

Safeway and C.I.O. Reach Agreement; Terms Not Given

Union Membership to Meet, Pass Upon Contract Today; Management Not Available

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—Representatives of the Safeway Stores and Local 474, C.I.O. Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Employees Union reached an agreement for a contract early today to end the strike against the company stores in the metropolitan New York area which began Saturday.

Announcement of the agreement was made by U. S. Conciliator Frank E. Walsh and Irving Abramson, organization director of the union.

Terms of the agreement, which is subject to ratification by the members of the local before it becomes effective, were not disclosed.

Abramson announced at the end of the eight-hour negotiating session that a general membership meeting of the local had been called for today and that if the agreement were ratified the men would return to work later in the day.

He described the terms of the agreement as "very satisfactory."

Walsh said in a statement after the meeting: "The management and union arrived at an understanding providing for an agreement with substantial wage increases, retroactive to last October 1. I congratulate both parties on their sincere efforts to arrive at an agreement."

Spokesmen Not Available. Management spokesmen were not immediately available for comment.

The strike, involved approximately 1,200 Safeway clerks and butchers in the company's 463 stores in New York city, Westchester, Nassau, Suffolk and Rockland counties, N. Y., and Bergen county, N. J.

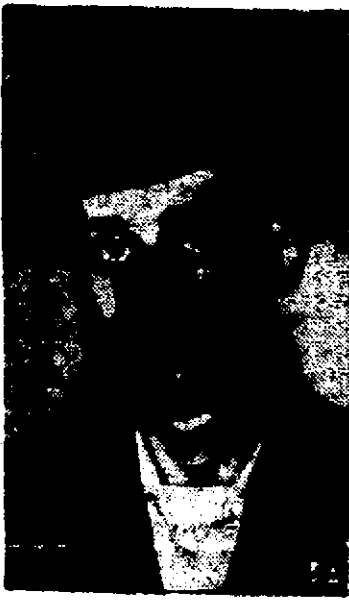

The union contended that the firm declined to pay employees five weeks back wages which the union said they lost during the recent general trucking strike in New York city which closed Safeway stores. The union also had demanded a 40 percent general wage increase.

Last Friday, the company offered clerks a $7 a week increase, but rejected payment for the five week strike period. The company also offered a $13.50 weekly raise to butchers and an $11.50 weekly increase to head meatcutters.

The $7 raise to clerks would lift their minimum weekly wage from $28 to $35, the company said, and would provide them with a new weekly maximum pay of $51.

The influenza outbreak in 1918 killed 20,000,000 people throughout the world.

HELD BY POLICE

William Kresge (above), 21, is being held at Allentown, Pa., for grand jury action on charges of kidnaping 21-year-old Jean Doern, Wellesley College student, reported Detective Captain Wallace Frager. Miss Doern testified that Kresge forced her at gun point to continue driving her car after she gave him a lift. She said she escaped by driving the car into a path of a bus and running after the bus stopped. (AP Wirephoto)

Telephone Union Gets Ready to Talk on Wages

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—The National Federation of Telephone Workers made ready today to announce its wage and other contract demands.

Covering approximately 300,000 employees of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company and independent telephone firms, the demands were to be made public after a 3 p. m. (EST) news conference called by N.F.T.W. President Joseph A. Beirne.

The union, an independent, is undertaking to bargain with employers on a nation-wide basis on wages and nine other contract issues, including hours, vacations and pensions. Most contracts expire in March, Beirne said.

Union City Girl, 13, Says She Needs Gun in N. Y.

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—A gun-toting 13-year-old girl from Union City, N. J., who explained the hardware by saying, "a girl needs protection" in a city like New York, was charged with juvenile delinquency today by police.

Police said she had been posing as an 18-year-old and had been working as an usher in a newsreel theatre since Tuesday.

Detective Frank Murray said she left home Monday with $50 and her father's gun, stayed in a New York bus terminal overnight, and then got a furnished room in West 30th street.

The girl's father showed police a birth certificate indicating his daughter was 13. She will be arraigned in children's court.

Three Fugitives Are Still at Large

Two Others Captured, One Returns Voluntarily

Phoenixville, Pa., Dec. 19 (AP)—Three criminally insane army fugitives from the Valley Forge General Hospital remained at large today as police intensified their search in Valley Forge National Park where two others of their three companions in the escape were captured. A third escapee voluntarily returned to the hospital.

Howard Boggs, 28, Huntington, W. Va., and Curtis L. Fogarty, 24, Appalachia, Va., were found lying in a ditch yesterday in the national park near General Washington's headquarters. Park guards, who discovered the two under some leaves and brush, said they were suffering from exposure and offered no resistance.

Shortly after Boggs and Fogarty were apprehended, Frank L. Lofton, 26, a negro from Saginaw, Mich., walked into the army hospital where hundreds of war veterans are recovering from wounds and injuries, and surrendered.

Meanwhile, Joseph Bruno, 28, Staten Island, N. Y., Harry F. Keller, 28, Newark, N. J., and Gerald Brant, Berlin Heights, O., were believed by police to be hiding in the vicinity of the hospital.

The six escapees were committed to the hospital on long terms for crimes ranging from rape to murder.

Frozen Metal Gets Radio Programs Without Power

Also Acts Without Any Tubes or Antenna, Hopkins Scientists Declare

Baltimore, Dec. 19 (AP)—Vistas of unexplored fields of radio research were opened today with an announcement by Johns Hopkins University scientists that they have accidentally discovered a new method of radio reception using only a tiny strip of frozen metal—without power source, tubes or antenna.

Dr. Donald H. Andrews, professor of chemistry at the university and co-discoverer of the phenomenon, said local programs had been heard clearly by use of a piece of Columbian nitride smaller than a common pin and made superconductive by lowering its temperature to about 435 degrees below zero (fahrenheit). "Perhaps in another two or three months," Andrews hazarded, "we will be able to tell what we have here."

Other sources close to the university, who declined to be named, predicted, however, that the discovery might lead to a revolutionary new means of long distance radio transmission and reception because of the treated metal's great sensitivity to wave impulses.

An announcement from the university said the discovery was made by Andrews and Dr. Chester Clark of the university staff in experiments with an air-raid ray bolometer, a device developed at Johns Hopkins during the war for "seeing" objects in the dark.

"general sentiment" among the congressmen favoring continuance of residential rent control.

Other problems on agenda. Other state-federal problems considered, he added, were:

Channeling federal financial aid to localities through the state government and federal state "areas of taxation."

Overlapping of federal, state and local services to veterans with what he called a "waste of public funds due to duplication."

Unification of employment service and unemployment assistance at federal level.

Praises Editor's Proposal To Train German Writers

Berlin, Dec. 19 (AP)—Lieut. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy American military governor, today endorsed as "a very good idea" a proposal by Paul C. Smith, editor of the San Francisco Chronicle, to bring German editors to the United States to learn free press practices by working on American newspapers.

Gen. Clay said in an interview he thought the plan could be started almost immediately on a limited scale if some method of financing it were obtained.

Hearty endorsement of the plan was also expressed by Brig. Gen. Robert McCure, chief of the military government's information control division.

Gen. McCure said he had discussed some such plan briefly and informally with American editors who toured Germany a few months ago and hoped it could be developed.

"I think such experience would be very useful to our German ones," McCure said.

"Editors and publishers in Germany today are mostly elderly men who were not permitted to practice during the Hitler years," McCure added. "And those who were active during the Nazi era are almost totally unacceptable."

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

Cincinnati, Ohio, Dec. 19 (AP)—Traveling out from Manhattan you know you're in the middle west when—

You see a sign saying "Luncheon 55 cents."

The waitress says "thank you" when you leave a 15-cent tip.

You can stand up and stretch in your hotel room—without breaking a knuckle against either wall.

They put more than one dipper of ice cream in a sundae and throw in a spoonful of whipped cream free. And the malted milks are thicker than chocolate-flavored hydrant water.

You meet more women carrying children than leading dogs.

You notice there are spaces between the houses.

If you ask a stranger what time it is, he doesn't suspiciously grab his wallet pocket with both hands.

If you ask for a light, he hands you a box of matches and says "keep 'em, I got plenty."

The people begin to speak in complete sentences instead of a series of grunts.

The Pekinese thin out and you come across lop-eared hounds that aren't ashamed to scratch themselves in public.

Different Literature
Copies of "The Best Loved Poems of James Whitcomb Riley" replace "The Lost Weekend" on the drugstore book stands.

Nobody faints if you order ginger ale with your whiskey, but most folks just say—"and a little branch water for me."

Lady schoolteachers look both ways before lighting up a cigarette.

Few Foreign Accounts
People's words come out with a soft slur, but nobody bites a word in two after the first vowel.

The boys wear caps with ear flaps.

The Chinese restaurants fail to outnumber the barbecue stands.

You can ask a clerk for a three-cent stamp—if that's all you want to buy—and walk out feeling reasonably sure he isn't muttering "lightwad" behind your back.

Have Butter and Sugar Too
You can't read your newspaper through restaurant butter slabs, and they leave the sugar bowl on the table.

You can buy a man-sized steak and still get some change back from a five-dollar bill.

The cops say "mister" instead of "hey, youse."

Somebody speaks to you first. They take off their hats as a woman enters the elevators.

They call a racehorse by its name instead of "that trackwalker" or "that outburrer."

The coffee tastes like coffee instead of hot mahogany stain, and the man at the cash register pushes out the toothpick bowl and says pleasantly, "come see us again."

Take Their Time
The people take their time going to work instead of hurrying to work to loaf.

Folks know their neighbors as people with first names—not just strangers behind a series of closed doors.

You can see a squirrel without wondering why he isn't in a museum.

Five Negroes Perish, More Than 40 Hurt

Philadelphia, Dec. 19 (AP)—Five Negroes perished and more than 40 others were injured as fire swept the first floor of a low-priced south Philadelphia hotel, forcing more than 100 residents from the four-story building in near-freezing weather.

Fire Marshal George Gallagher said a preliminary investigation of the fire which gutted the ground floor of Abe's Hotel at 1702-04 South street, indicated it originated from a lighted cigarette in one of the rooms.

Police Hold Second Man in Alleged Bribery Attempt

Jerome Zarowitz Is Said to Be Gamblers' Employee; Bail Set at $10,000

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—A second man was held by police today in the investigation into the alleged attempt to "fix" last Sunday's National Professional Football League championship game between the Chicago Bears and the New York Giants.

The man, Jerome Zarowitz, 28, was described by Assistant District Attorney George P. Monaghan as an employee of "a combination of gamblers and bookmakers."

Monaghan also told General Sessions Judge Francis L. Valente yesterday that Zarowitz "admitted that he knew" Alvin J. Paris, who has been indicted by a grand jury on charges of attempting to bribe Merle Hapes and Frank Filchick, backfield players for the Giants.

Zarowitz was held as a material witness and Judge Valente set bail at $10,000 after Monaghan had asked for $50,000 bail. Zarowitz was remanded to Toms River when he was unable to produce the bail.

Before taking this action, Judge Valente had denied bail to Paris, 28-year-old novelty concern owner, on the ground that Paris might be endangered if he was released.

Detectives said Zarowitz was mentioned in telephone conversations on Paris' line, which was tapped last week as part of a general bookmaking investigation.

Monaghan told the court he was positive Zarowitz had "information which will throw light on this investigation."

He said that in a conversation with Zarowitz "he asked me if I was a known gambler was back in the city, and I asked him what his interest was, did he expect that man to put up bail for him, if he was held. He replied, 'Yes.'"

But Zarowitz's counsel, Rymon Barshay told the court Zarowitz was "just a clerk. Big shot gamblers will not furnish his bail. He will furnish his own bail."

Judge Valente's decision, in denying Paris bail was described by one of the latter's counsel, Oscar Barra, as being based on "the flimsiest kind of testimony."

He said that at a closed hearing on bail Tuesday, Police Capt. Raymond Maguire testified he had received two telephone calls warning that witnesses in the case would be killed. Barra said Maguire admitted he made no attempt to trace the calls.

Paris has pleaded innocent in the grand jury indictment.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 16 Million of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisons
Every human body contains a powerful, yet delicate, system of organs which remove poisons from the body. This system is the kidneys. If they become weak, the body is unable to remove the acids which build up in the blood. This condition is known as acidosis. It is a dangerous condition which can lead to death. The kidneys are the body's natural filters. They filter out the acids and poisons from the blood and excrete them in the urine. If the kidneys become weak, the acids and poisons build up in the blood, and the body becomes acidotic. This condition is dangerous and can lead to death. The kidneys are the body's natural filters. By Frank Stuart

Boston, Dec. 19 (AP)—Boston's famed Children's Hospital—haven for stricken youth all over America and the world—soon will become the first universal medical center of its kind.

The 77-year-old institution which has pioneered in cures and relief for thousands of ailing children, began next April a nation-wide campaign to raise $10,000,000 for the erection of a medical center comparable to the Mayo Clinic for adults.

The 220-bed Children's Hospital was a leader in the development of the Drinker respirator, or iron lung, the treatment of dehydrated children, diagnosis and treatment of children's cancer, an extract now used to control threatened epidemics of measles, and many surgical operations for heart and throat ailments peculiar to youth.

Laboratory Accomplishments
Months of study in the institution's R.H. blood factor laboratory bore fruit several weeks ago when doctors pumped poisoned blood out of the body of a nine-day-old infant and injected R.H. negative blood, probably averting death.

Doctors said the mother's blood was R.H. negative and the child's R.H. positive. During the prenatal period, the mother's blood was poisoning that of the child.

The Children's Hospital technicians used a specially adapted plastic tube inserted at the navel to draw out the death-dealing blood and inject the life-giving fluid. At birth the infant had been given only a few hours to live.

Come From All Over

In the past six years, youthful patients have come to the Children's Hospital from 37 of the United States and 23 foreign countries.

But while it has treated all children without discrimination and very often without remuneration, the institution has been forced to reject 90 out of 100 applicants for internship because of limited facilities. The hospital's trustees hope the new 12-story medical center—planned for completion in the next five years—will partially solve that problem.

49 Out of 100 Free

Hospital authorities report that 49 out of every 100 patients treated in the past six years never paid a cent for services. Some were able to afford only 25 cents a day.

The institution has treated more patients afflicted with poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) than were cured for at famed Warm Springs, Ga.

The hospital also has a children's psychiatry unit and the only completely hospitalized Boy and Girl Scout troops in the country.

By extending its capacity to a large medical center, the Children's Hospital hopes to bring to stricken children in a wide area the invaluable, highly specialized services developed over many years.

National sponsors of the new medical center include: Mrs. Winthrop W. Aldrich, Mrs. William Armour, Sidney J. Weinberg, Charles E. Wilson, and Owen D. Young, all of New York city; Philip D. Armour, Robert A. Gardner, C. W. Seabury, all of Chicago; John Cowles, Minneapolis; Mrs. Francis B. Crowninshield, Wilmington, Del.; Dr. Ernest M.

Hopkins, Hanover, N. H.; Elton Hoyt, Cleveland; Eric Johnston, Washington, D. C.; Dr. Clarence C. Little, Bar Harbor, Me.; and Edgar M. Quenny and Tom K. Smith of St. Louis.

Projects Are Approved

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 19 (AP)—The New York State Postwar Public Works Planning Commission approved plans today for six projects proposed by three state departments at an estimated total cost of $1,808,404.

The action brought to nearly $6,000,000 the estimated cost of projects approved by the commission in two days. Seventeen jobs projected by county and local governments, totaling an estimated $4,306,550, were endorsed yesterday. None was in Ulster county.

Institutions Are Badly Needed for Care of Adults

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 19 (AP)—A legislative sub-committee today began what it called a broad inquiry "into the problems" of public and private institutional care for the aged in New York.

Assemblyman Harold C. Oster-tag of Attica, chairman of the joint legislative committee on interstate cooperation, said that adequate institutional care for adults was "one of the most pressing social needs" in the state.

The survey, involving about 28,000 aged men and women in some 300 public and private institutions, will "provide a sound basis" for future planning, as added.

Oster-tag appealed to more than 300 public welfare commissioners, institutional heads and social service leaders for cooperation. The study will be made by the sub-committee on adult institutional care of the special committee on social welfare and relief.

The inquiry, a committee statement said, will cover the welfare problems "not only of the aged but of the homeless and transient; persons whose needs are custodial rather than medical or nursing, and individuals who for psychological and social reasons require the protection and the relationship of group life."

The state said that the institutional population of 28,000 has remained constant since 1931 "even though old age assistance" established that year "to maintain the needy in their own homes, is today providing for 105,000 aged men and women."

Many older persons, called back to industry during the war, now add to the urgency of the "need for service," the statement added.

Dr. Langevin Dies
Paris, Dec. 19 (AP)—Prof. Paul Langevin, 74, one of France's most famous scientists, died today after a brief illness. He was known especially for his research work in electro-magnetism and sound.

Narcotic Rings

Hogan Says Two Groups
Did $20,000 Weekly
in New York

New York, Dec. 18 (AP)—District Attorney Frank S. Hogan announced today that two narcotics rings selling an estimated $20,000 worth of drugs a week in New York city were broken up with the arrest of six men in Harlem.

A grand jury indicted Charles Albergo, 44, Armond Avelo Piranoli, 34, and Nicholas Gnazzo, 46, on charges of selling narcotics. Hogan said. Another indictment, charging conspiring to sell narcotics, named Joseph Gagliano, 43, Angelo Loicano, 33, and Anthony Lucente, 31.

Hogan said Albergo was "a close associate of Joey Rao and Trigger Mike Cappola," who are held in $250,000 bail each as material witnesses in the Scattereggio case.

An examination of Albergo's records showed that he had sold more than $150,000 worth of narcotics in the past 60 days, Hogan said. His arrest followed purchase of four ounces at $350 an ounce between December 2 and 9, Hogan added.

At the close of the meeting refreshments was served and a social time was enjoyed. The January meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Fred Heidke.

Mrs. Fred Heidke entertained the Harmony Club of Middletown, of which she is a member, Wednesday afternoon of last week. There were also several ladies from here present.

Rehabilitation Center Trains Disabled for Many Useful Jobs

Neurosis Plays as Big Part as Physical Disability in Keeping People Jobless

By ADELAIDE KERR
(AP Newsfeature Writer)

Hannah Detman's crutches tapped uncertainly along the New York city street and her heart beat fast in her thin body. She was going on an errand which she had long since despaired of making again. Twenty years of arthritis—12 of them in a wheel chair on home relief and eight in a city hospital, had left her, at 40, a woman who looked much older than her years, neurotic, fearful, uncertain—and almost drained of hope that she could work again.

Yet here she was, after an operation, heading toward the Rehabilitation Center for the Disabled at the doctor's suggestion. Her hands shook as she placed her crutches on the Center's steps but, under her threadbare coat, her heart was singing a faint little song of hope.

Three days later she was seated at a sewing machine in the Center, her gnarled hands at work on repairing sheets.

Ten weeks later she had a job doing sewing machine repair work on sheets and pillowcases in a big New York hospital—a job in which she did not have to face much youthful competition and which gave her one good hot meal a day. She kept the job.

Hannah was one of 152 people who came to the Center last year for work therapy designed to make self-supporting, self-respecting workers out of disabled, broken, unemployable men and women. The Center operates under the direction of the American Rehabilitation Committee, founded in 1922 by the late Dr. Fred H. Albee, famous orthopedic surgeon who saw in his practice ample indication of the need for such service.

In the operation of the Center women as well as a number of men have played a part. Mrs. Louella Albee, Dr. Albee's widow, is president of the Center. Dr. Madge C. L. McGuinness, New York physician, serves on the executive committee and Mrs. Grace Maxon Heagen acts as executive secretary.

"Years of experience have taught us that neurosis plays as big a part as physical disability in keeping these people from working," said blue-eyed, pink-cheeked Mrs. Heagen as she sat at her desk the other day. "The average person who comes here has been idle for about two and one-half years, as a result of illness or accident. While they are at home they sit and think about themselves, their illnesses and their problems. Many develop a neurosis which must be broken down. Our function is to train them and recondition them physically and mentally so that they are ready for employment. Training equips them for a new kind of job if they are no longer able to handle the old one. We give training here in printing, proof-reading, metal lathe work and drill press operation. We study the person carefully and adjust our facilities to his vocational needs. Here we vary from other groups, who put everyone to work on sewing machines or on flower making to give them manual dexterity."

"Reconditioning is developing their physical strength, emotional stability and ability to work an eight-hour day. It also means helping them to overcome inhibitions which prevent employment. Wood work and other work fall in this class."

"We keep the people busy and point out their successes. They think about a great deal besides themselves and see people who are worse off than they are. They use the tools of the trade they are going into, so they know they can do their job. The training and reconditioning are given them free. The average stay here is eight weeks. Eighty per cent of those who leave here are rehabilitated and three-quarters of the 80 per cent remain on the job."

"I am convinced from what I have seen here in 20 years that 75 per cent of the people who are dependents because of disabilities could be rehabilitated and earn their own living."

Ashes Are Scattered

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—The ashes of Damon Runyon, fiction chronicler of Broadway, were scattered over the Times Square area yesterday from an airplane. Runyon's son, Damon, Jr., said the columnist had left him written instructions that the ashes be "scattered over the island of Manhattan, the place that I have truly loved and that was so good to me."

Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, tilted the urn as the plane passed over Times Square.

Barton's Condition 'Poor'

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—John Barton, 70-year-old actor, who portrayed the role of Jeeter Lester in "Tobacco Road" for the past nine years, was reported in "poor" condition today at French Hospital. His wife said last night that Barton had a heart disease. The veteran actor entered the hospital three days ago. Mrs. Barton said the road company of "Tobacco Road" closed in Allentown, Pa., Saturday night because doctors ordered Barton to quit.

Bell Plans to Tighten State Control on Cashing Agencies

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—Elliott V. Bell, state superintendent of banks, says he intends to seek authority at the next session of the state legislature to tighten his control over check-cashing agencies.

"To plug one serious loophole in the present law," he said in a statement yesterday, "the banking department will ask the legislature for specific authority to refuse a license to persons having a criminal record or who associate with known criminals."

Bell made his statement after testifying before a grand jury investigating the $900,000 Mergenthaler Linotype Co. embezzlement case in which four men are accused of swindling the firm through issuance of checks drawn on false invoices.

The prosecution has charged that about $432,000 worth of the checks were cashed at a Manhattan check cashing concern.

Bell also declared he would seek legislation "intended to make it impossible to use the check cashing business as an aid to illegal activities."

Will Name Arbitrator

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—An arbitrator probably will be named "within the next two weeks" to decide the wage dispute involving 23,000 Consolidated Edison Company employees in New York city and Westchester county, an official of the union involved said today.

The official of the Brotherhood of Consolidated Edison Employees, Utility Workers of America (C.I.O.), said attorneys of the union and the company were working on legal phrasing of an arbitration stipulation. The parties agreed Monday to arbitrate issues after agreeing in direct negotiation on non-wage issues for a contract to replace the one which will expire December 31. Agreement to arbitrate removed the threat of a strike.

Would Limit Amount

Among amendments he said he would propose to the present law, Bell listed one limiting to $250 the size of a check that could be cashed by a check-cashing licensee.

His program included amendments providing that every check, being deposited, must be endorsed with the actual name under which the licensee is doing business; and authorizing the superintendent to suspend a license temporarily, pending investigation for permanent suspension or revocation.

Other provisions would expedite procedure. Bell said the present revocation procedure was "costly,

They added that they had in mind any kind of work—but that their military training really qualified them only for machine gunning.

Effort to Avoid Repeating Foreign Trade Pitfalls

By CLARKE BEACH

Washington, Dec. 18 (AP)—Both government and business are making strenuous efforts to avoid repeating the foreign trade pitfalls of the '20s.

Throughout that decade of economic innocence we plugged our export trade incessantly, heedless of the necessity to buy if we wanted to sell. At that time, talk of increased imports was anathema. While the inevitable collapse drew near, there was indiscriminate lending and protective trade barriers were erected all over the world.

After the bitter lesson of 1929, this nation started on a new course of foreign trade. Cordell Hull began his reciprocal trade treaty program in 1933, and the act renewing authority for the treaties was renewed as late as June, 1945.

In the Atlantic Charter the United States committed itself to the "fullest collaboration between all nations in the economic field."

In Article VII of the "master agreements" regarding lend-lease arrangements, the parties agreed to the reduction of tariff and other trade barriers and to the fullest expansion of international commerce.

At the Bretton Woods Conference, the United States pledged its full participation in the international monetary fund and bank. These institutions are intended to promote trade and shield member nations from the effects of general economic distress.

With a view to forming eventually an International Trade Organization (I.T.O.) under the United Nations, to promote unified economic action, the United States late in 1945 issued a set of proposals for the expansion of world trade.

Last fall representatives of 17 nations met in London for preliminary discussion of them. They prepared a draft charter for an International Trade Organization, incorporating about 80 per cent of the U. S. proposals. Final action on the charter will be taken when the I.T.O. is formed at a conference next spring. It is hoped more than 50 nations will attend.

Business, in the meantime, is systematically campaigning to sell the public on the need for expanding mutual world trade. The National Association of Manufacturers, the Committee for Economic Development and the Advertising Council are among the leading groups engaged in this work.

The Advertising Council, which is about to launch an elaborate public educational drive, proposes to "awaken America to the vital importance of two-way trade to protect our security and prosperity, prevent another depression and help achieve lasting peace."

Strong resistance to these movements, however, is expected both in the United States and among many other nations.

Economists foresee a long and tortuous course of political conflict and compromise before the I.T.O. becomes an effective aid to economic peace.

Over 8,000,000 Will Be Covered in Program This Year; Local Manager's Report

Jerome S. Blumberg, manager of the Kingston office of the Social Security Administration, Federal Security Agency, notes that approximately 8,200,000 wage and salary earners in the United States will have attained lifetime insurance protection for themselves and their families under the program by the end of 1946.

In reporting on the growth of the old-age and survivors insurance program during the year, in Ulster county Mr. Blumberg submits the following figures:

Number of retired workers, age 65 or over, receiving monthly benefits, increased from 579, with total benefits of $13,925 monthly on December 31, 1945 (estimated) 760, with monthly benefits totaling $18,490, December 31, 1946.

Number of wives, 65 or over, of retired workers, drawing benefits increased from 182, with total monthly benefits of $2,276, December 31, 1945; increased to (estimated) 238, with total of $2,977 on December 31, 1946.

Widows with young children—99 with total monthly benefits of $2,037 a year ago; increased to (estimated) 106 with monthly benefits totaling $2,190, December 31, 1946.

Children of deceased or retired workers—230 drawing total monthly benefits of $2,955 a year ago; increased to (estimated) 256, with total monthly benefits of $3,336 December 31, 1946.

Aged widows of workers—85, with total monthly benefits of $1,578 a year ago; increased to (estimated) 115, with total monthly benefits of $2,128 on December 31, 1946.

Aged dependent parents of deceased workers—10 with monthly total payments of $129 a year ago; increased to (estimated) 11, with monthly totals of $154 December 31, 1946.

The tables indicated that whereas there were 1,185 beneficiaries drawing a total of $22,900 monthly December 31, 1945, it is estimated that this will be increased to 1,486, with total monthly benefits of $29,275 on December 31, 1946.

Mr. Blumberg said that more than half of the permanently insured persons will have gained that status in 1946 through the completion of the 10 years of work in commerce and industry. The year 1946 was the first year in which it was possible for them to attain fully insured status—permanently—under the 10-year coverage provision, since the old-age and survivors insurance program completes its tenth year of operation December 31.

As long as a worker continues in jobs covered by the Act, Mr. Blumberg said, no matter what his age, he continues to contribute a percentage of his wages to the fund from which benefits are paid. His employer makes a matching contribution. As long as a worker continues in covered jobs, he may continue to build up his benefit amount. If a worker under 65 leaves covered employment, his benefit amount will decrease.

Girl 13, Saves Tot 5, Diving Under Ice

Chelsea, Mass., Dec. 19 (AP)—A thirteen-year-old girl who unhesitatingly risked her life by diving under ice to save a five-year-old tot was hailed as a heroine today.

The girl, Theresa Di Fiore, and Hubert Kodis, 20, already had braved the chilly waters of a clay pit in nearby Revere to rescue two older girls when Theresa dived back, swam beneath the ice and returned with Patricia Brooks, aged five. The trio had broken through the thin ice while sliding.

Spare Part for Patching Arteries

Lucite Tubes Bring Together Severed Ends of the Aortas

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE (Associated Press Science Editor)

Cleveland, Dec. 19 (AP)—A new spare part for patching arteries, in the form of a tube of lucite, one of the glass-clear plastics, was described to the American College of Surgeons here today.

Dr. Charles A. Hufnagel of Richmond, Ind., and Harvard medical school told of using lucite tubes to bring together the severed ends of the aortas, the main arteries from heart to lungs, of dogs.

Patching of severed arteries was done on human beings in war, and in civilian injuries, with other materials than lucite, but with some handicaps the lucite seems to escape.

Human veins and arteries have been used to make the connections. Certain metals that were nearly impervious to corrosion in the human body also were used, in the form of tubes. Both kinds were temporary until the severed blood vessels either had re-established connections or the blood had found its own way to detour around the cut places.

But the lucite tubes, Dr. Hufnagel said, apparently were permanent. After they had been in the great arteries for six months, autopsies on the animals showed the tubes firmly in place by natural fibers growing from the arteries.

Surgeons first tried tying off the large leg vein to keep the clots in the lower leg. But some got around the tie-off. Then they tied the same vein higher up, near the groin, known as the iliac. Again the clots got around.

The leg veins join in the abdomen to form the big vein known as vena cava. It looked like a good place to head off permanently the ascension of leg clots. But the veins were too small to tie off the big vein might do.

If the clots do not escape from the leg veins, they are absorbed there and the patient feels better. Today J. Ross Veal of Georgetown University reported he has done this on 30 persons with excellent results, and William R. Moses of George Washington University reported success on a number of cases.

People sometimes lose arms or legs with gangrene after frostbite because of coagulation of blood in the limb. A way to avoid this danger by use of heparin was reported by Kurt Lange, David Whinep and Linn J. Boyd of New York Medical College, Flower Hospital and Fifth Avenue Hospital, New York city. Heparin keeps blood from clotting.

Free Life Wrecking Ships On Baltimore Waterfront Just Suits Grandmother

By ELEANOR GRIESEMER
Baltimore, Dec. 19 (AP)—Mrs. Marie Mattson is as handy with a ship-wrecking wrench as most great-grandmothers are at tatting. The 63-year-old woman, who hasn't a gray hair on her head, makes her living breaking up old wooden vessels along the Baltimore waterfront. She knows every schooner and car float that has entered the Patapasco piers for the past 20 years.

Mrs. Mattson lives with her four dogs and a grandson in a one-room shanty near the Patapasco dry dock, where she rents "her pier" from the city.

"All my folks were fishermen and lived along the waterfront, which made me love it," she said. "After I grew up I became a cook in a boarding house and there I met William Mattson. He was a Scandinavian and like all his people loved the water dearly. One of the Mattson's first homes was a 308-foot schooner with 23 rooms and an entire bottom deck which her husband used for a woodworkshop.

"I'm not exactly sure how we started to wreck ships, but the first thing I knew we had the 87-year-old Oriole. In those days they didn't use nails on the boats, but copper and brass bolts. They brought in real money."

Since her husband's death nine years ago Mrs. Mattson has been doing practically a one-man vessel-breaking job. The man who helps her out "has been with us 23 years and he's getting a little old and sickly, so he can't do much," she explains.

It takes Mrs. Mattson a year to wreck a vessel by herself. She sells the blocks of wood from the boats to private buyers and the planks to lumber companies. The iron and other scrap metal is purchased by various water front firms.

Mrs. Mattson built her shore house after the "Old Maine" overturned and forced her to become a landlubber for the first time in 21 years.

Her five children, seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild often have urged Mrs. Mattson to come live with them, but she sticks to her job.

Good Taste Today

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

AN EVENING RECEPTION

The questions sent me about an evening reception a reader is giving for her son and his bride are made plain by my answers:

1. Nothing could be more formally correct than a beautiful white damask dinner cloth for the table covering.

2. A typical menu consists of assorted party sandwiches, small cakes, a cold beverage and perhaps ice cream. Whether or not there is hot bouillon, hot coffee or chocolate would depend upon the weather. Possibly one or two elaborately iced layer cakes or ice cream in individual molds might be added to meet the expectations of the damask cloth.

Send What She Likes

Dear Mrs. Post: Should a man send or take with him a corsage to a girl whom he is taking to a dance?

Answer: Whether the flowers are sent or taken is not important. What is important is that he find out what color flowers would be becoming to the dress she intends to wear. Or best of all, ask her what flowers she prefers.

Sending Sympathy to a Club Member

Dear Mrs. Post: Would a small gift or flowers be better to send from a club to a member who has lost a parent? If flowers, should they be sent to the funeral? We did not know the parent.

Answer: Flowers, either to the funeral or to the member, would be more appropriate from a club than a gift. Mourning is not a time associated with gifts, excepting those helpful things for those who are bewildered and helpless at such a time.

A Present from Girl to Man

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter, 20, wants to give a very expensive graduation present to a young man who has taken her out only several times. We think it unsuitable although we do approve of the young man whose parents are old friends of ours.

Answer: The fact that he is the son of your friends would explain your daughter's interest in him. However, I can't see how anyone could criticize her giving him a present on this occasion.
For Mrs. Post's booklet 503, "Etiquette of Service," send 10 cents in coin and a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, Post Office Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Mayor O'Dwyer Gets Port's Plan For N.Y. Airports

Program Calls for Bonds to Pay $191,000,000 on Development of Airfields

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—$191,000,000 program for the development and operation of New York city's municipal airports to be financed by New York Port of Authority bonds has been submitted by the organization to Mayor William O'Dwyer.

At the same time the Authority proposed yesterday to pay the city a long term $1,000,000 a year average rental for the airports.

The offer was presented by Authority Chairman Howard S. Cullman, following the Interstate Agency's survey of city airport facilities.

Mayor O'Dwyer did not comment on the offer.

The proposed airports program, the authority said, "must be self-supporting." It included $116,000,000 for runways, terminals, office and service buildings, utilities, air rights and equipment, and an additional $75,000,000 for hangars, shops and other facilities.

New York city would complete about $11,000,000 in outstanding airport contracts and continue with property acquisition and construction work provided for in its current capital budget under the authority plan. The city already has spent an estimated $80,000,000 on Idlewild.

The Port Authority said that under the proposed lease—maximum terms of which is 99 years—it expected to pay an initial rental of $250,000 in 1953, the first year following completion of Idlewild revenue-producing terminal structures. By 1960, the city would get about $862,000 annually.

Cullman said Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and Governor-elect Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey supported the need for regional development of metropolitan area airports.

E. E. May Dies

Shenandoah, Ia., Dec. 19 (AP)—Earl E. May, 58, prominent mid-western nurseryman and radio station operator, died at midnight in Duluth, Minn., after an extended illness. May became widely known through radio station KMA of Shenandoah which he established in 1925.

A legacy of $5000 which Benjamin Franklin left to Boston upon his death in 1790 grew to $431,756.18 by 1890.

Jail Breaker Gives Away to Old Routine

Norristown, Pa., Dec. 19 (AP)—A 33-year-old jail breaker was back in the Montgomery county prison here today because he couldn't forget prison routine.

Paul Reichert, who escaped Tuesday by concealing himself in a truckload of rugs leaving the prison, was taken into custody yesterday in Camden, N. J., while posing as an ordinary vagrant.

Reichert told detectives he left home after a broken romance and didn't want his parents to know of his arrest.

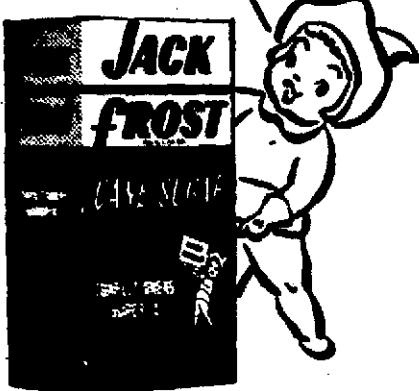

Officers were more or less satisfied with the story but left him in the barred line-up room.

Detective John Trout, watching Reichert through the door, saw him methodically go to the corner of the room, pick up a broom and start sweeping. Then Reichert asked for a dustpan which confirmed Trout's suspicions that the man had served time in a prison.

After further questioning, Reichert said: "Well, all right, I'll be honest with you. I escaped from jail at Norristown."

Partisans Declare Help Is Extended By Village Folk

Tour of Greek Territory Finds Guerrillas Are Getting Along All Right

Belgrade, Dec. 18 (Delayed) (AP)—Greek Partisan troops high on Mount Paikos south of the Yugoslav border told this reporter that people in all the villages behind guerrilla lines have been giving food, shelter, clothing and medical attention to the irregulars.

I have just returned from touring Greek Partisan territory in northern Macedonia in company with Peter Furst, correspondent for Reuters, and June Tannan, of Overseas News Agency. We spent three days behind Greek Partisan lines after the Greek Army in Salonika had said no one was permitted to go into the Partisan-held mountains because of security reasons.

With the help of Macedonia peasants, I skirted a Greek Army outpost at Orma at the foot of Mt. Kaimakchalan and talked with Partisans and villagers in the general area of Mt. Kaimakchalan and Mt. Paikos, due north of Edessa and about 65 miles northwest of Salonika. This was the locale of the most severe guerrilla fighting in Greece, north of the road between Salonika and Edessa and south of the Yugoslav frontier.

Constantly in Operation

The guerrillas appeared to be constantly in operation. Partisan commanders and fighting men and women said the people of the villages lived in terror of the Greek Army and gendarmes.

They related many stories of killings by gendarmes and said that in some places workers did their winter planting at night, surrounded by heavily armed guards of Partisans.

Villagers asserted there had been "discrimination in the distribution of U.N.R.R.A. goods." They said their village received only one allotment of supplies in two years and that this consisted of only a few cans of milk and some clothes.

One Partisan said that during a guerrilla attack on a village, guerrillas found 50 U.N.R.R.A.

waterproof jackets and 50 pair of shoes in the mayor's home. Telling the mayor with telling the soldiers in the black market and Partisan said the guerrillas shot him on the spot.

No Roads Repaired

In strange contrast to the Greek villages, Yugoslav people just on the other side of the border were receiving full aid and spending their entire time rebuilding their homes and roads. Not a single Greek road we traveled had been repaired.

No evidence was found that Greek Army troops or the gendarmes ever had set foot inside Yugoslav territory.

Another crudely printed "open letter" handed us by the Partisan commander outlined demands and proclaimed the formation of a "Greek Democratic Army."

The letter was directed to the governments of Russia, the United States, Great Britain and Greece and to newspapers in Athens and Salonika. It denied the Partisans were receiving aid from Yugoslavia or Bulgaria.

Elkton, Va., Dec. 18 (AP)—A wide search was under way today for Dr. J. M. Wait, internationally known chemist, reported missing on an automobile trip en route from Harrisonburg, Va., to his home in Metuchen, N. J. Foul play was suspected in the disappearance of the scientist, who has been conducting research on streptomycin at the Stonewall plant of Merck Pharmaceutical plant here.

Commenting that he is "mindful of the bleak Christmas ahead for these people who have already suffered so much," Mr. Truman said in a statement he had taken up the transportation problem with the Maritime Commission "and can hold out hope of early improvement."

Didn't Know It Was

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—A Brooklyn youth, holding a .38 caliber pistol from which the trigger clip had been removed, turned today to his former army buddy, pointed the gun at the latter's head and jeeringly declared, "I was Baruch's friend, Raymond wanted to kill me," pulled the trigger. Dead with a bullet in the trigger, was Harry Baruch, 21.

In the next article, family help for the T.B. patient will be discussed.

Filed on a homicide charge by police, who told of the fatal prank, was Baruch's friend, Raymond Hynes, 23. Hynes forgot the bullet in the chamber of the weapon, police said.

Movies Disclose Intimate Details Of Adolf and Eva

Frankfurt, Germany, Dec. 19 (AP)—Intimate new details of the life of Adolf Hitler and Eva Braun have been uncovered by army seizure of 31 reels of color films. The films, depicting gay parties at Berchtesgaden and bathing in the nude under mountain waterfalls, were dug from a hiding place in the Bavarian mountains "several months ago," army intelligence disclosed today.

Taken between 1939 and 1941, long before the couple's eleven-hour marriage in Berlin's ruins, the films were described as the personal property of the German Fuehrer and his bride.

Intelligence officers said the films had been used in the search for wanted Nazis and for the positive identification of hundreds of members of Hitler's entourage and the summer-time guests at the Fuehrer's Alpine eagle's nest.

Shown for First Time

Carefully catalogued and arranged in time sequence, the films were shown yesterday for the first time to Gen. Joseph T. McNarney, the army's commander in Europe. Correspondents saw three selected reels from the candid shots.

Most of the candid shots were taken by Heinrich Hoffman, Hitler's photographer, who now faces trial by his own countrymen before a denazification court, and his aide.

Officers said the entire collection takes 10½ hours to show.

Shots of Hitler show him gazing out from Berchtesgaden over the sunlit Bavarian peaks, uncertain and unsure of himself and his future; raving at Himmler, Ribbentrop and Goering, dancing a jig or frantically waving a huge magnifying glass while studying a map of the war fronts.

Shows Nervous Twitches

Intelligence officers said shots that showed nervous twitches around the Fuehrer's mouth and the constant movement of one knee were revealing of his character.

The films show frequent scenes of Hitler with Eva Braun, talking calmly to her or apparently kidding her.

The shots of Eva alone show her to be a really beautiful woman, one officer commented.

The films show Eva dressed nearly always in a blue polka dot skirt, white blouse and red velvet vest, with her long golden hair falling over her forehead.

She is dancing, talking, playing with kittens or children or cavorting on the beaches of the Starnberger See, the Chiem See or the Wolfgang See.

The films show Hitler's favorite in at least six gaily colored bathing suits, diving, surf-riding, doing gymnastics or climbing trees, and a well-moulded body. In one sequence with the closest members of the Braun family, her sister, Gretel, Favelein, bathes blithely in the nude under a mountain waterfall.

Health for All

The Common Cold

The common cold is just that—common to almost everyone in the country. Few people are able to avoid at least one bout with the highly infectious virus in the course of a year. In itself, the cold is an uncomfortable disease, but its worst feature is the crop of complications that may come as aftermath. It is for this reason that colds should not be ignored or regarded as a minor nuisance.

The best way to avoid cold germs is to keep away from people who have them. Stay out of crowds, if at all possible. Wash the hands frequently and thoroughly, especially before touching food.

Build up resistance to infection by eating a well-balanced diet, avoiding sweets and rich pastries, except as dessert, keeping feet dry, dressing comfortably according to the weather and getting plenty of rest and sleep.

If all these precautions fail, as occasionally they will, go home, take a hot bath and go to bed. Stay there until the cold is cured, if possible. Prompt and sensible action may mean the difference between a five-day cold and one which may hang on all winter, bringing serious complications in its wake.

Unless properly cared for, a cold may lead to infection of the nasal sinuses, ears, larynx, bronchial tubes, lungs and sometimes the eyes. Such secondary inflammations may result in pneumonia, tonsillitis, diseases of the ear leading to impaired hearing or other disorders. A large percentage of deafness in children is the direct result of chronic colds. Removal of adenoids often results in children's colds becoming less frequent and severe.

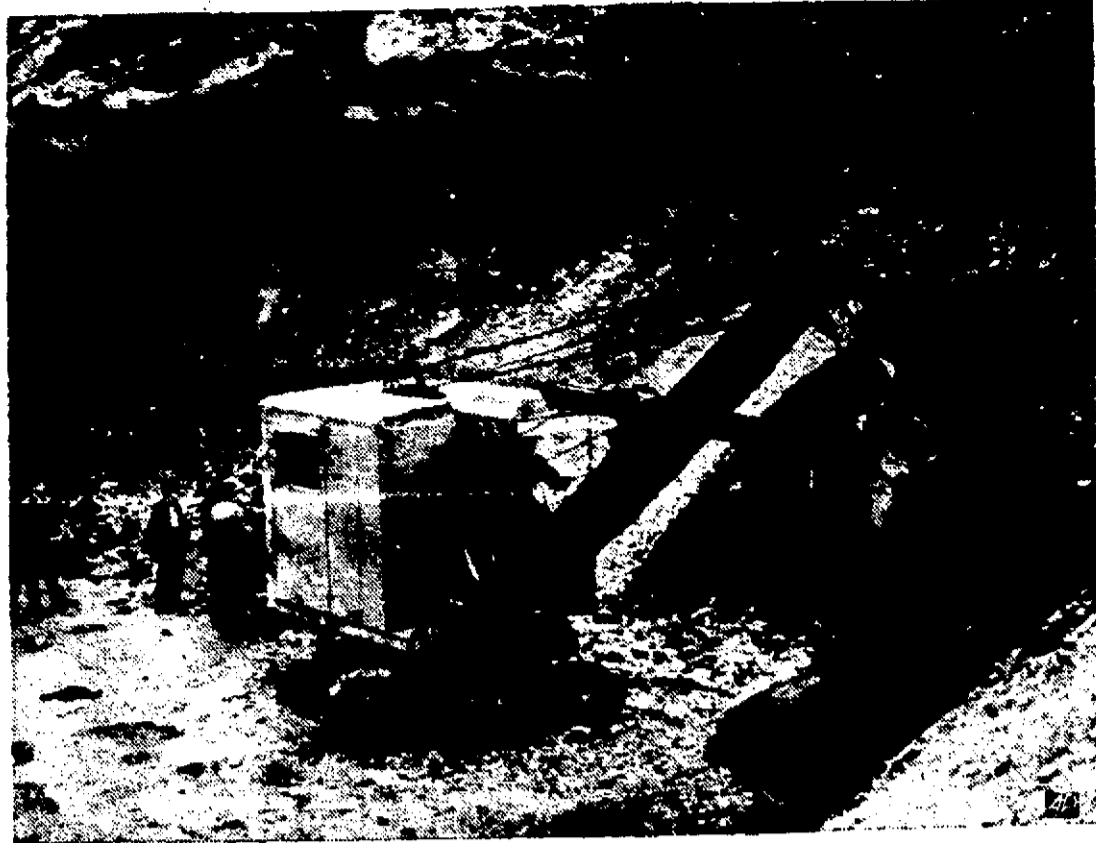

In some cases, secondary infections can be prevented by use of the sulpha drugs or penicillin. However, self-dosing with these substances is unwise and may even be dangerous. Small doses give a false sense of security and sometimes produce "drug fastness" so that later infections cannot be controlled by the drug.

They should be used only as prescribed by a physician when the patient with a cold is actually ill. It is also important to remember that early symptoms of some communicable diseases are so like the common cold that they are often disregarded until the disease has made considerable progress. Valuable time is wasted on home remedies which do no good. A physician should always be consulted if even a slight fever accompanies the symptoms of a cold.

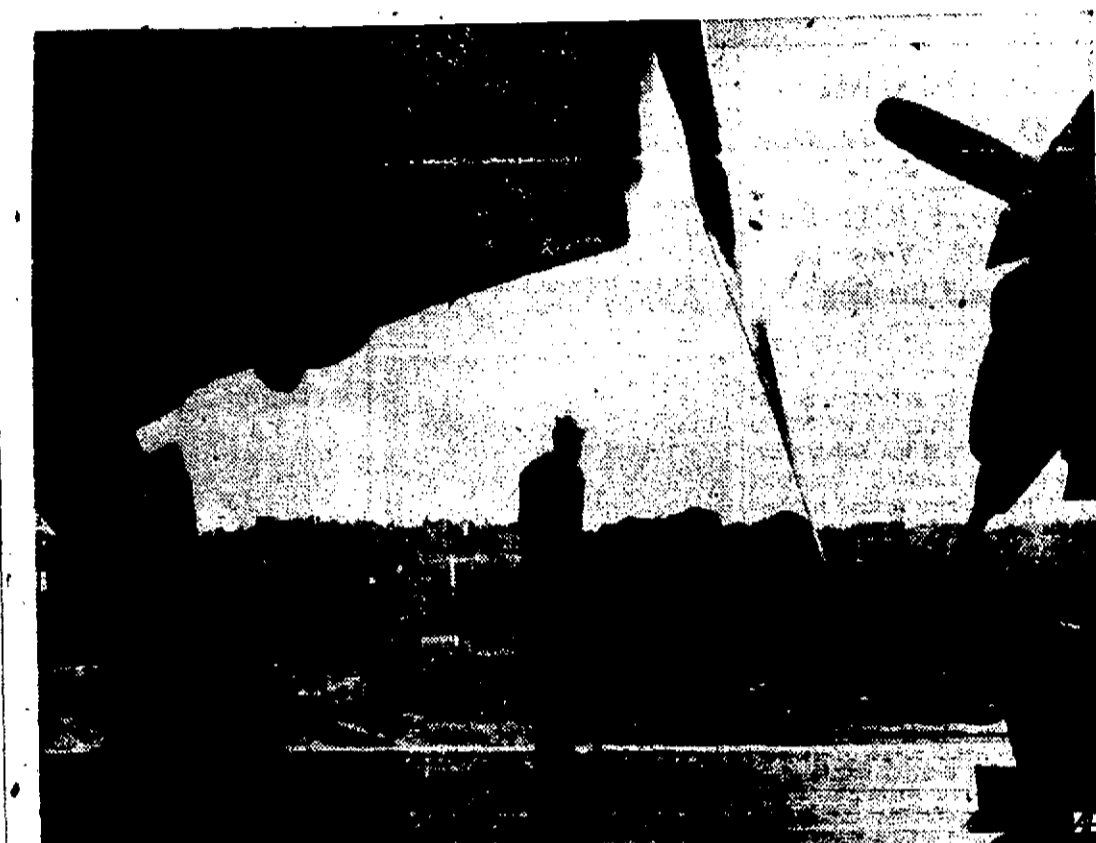

In the next article, family help for the T.B. patient will be discussed.

Filed on a homicide charge by police, who told of the fatal prank, was Baruch's friend, Raymond Hynes, 23. Hynes forgot the bullet in the chamber of the weapon, police said.

Britain to Own Railway System

Transport Bill Gets 362-204 Vote at Second Reading

London, Dec. 19 (AP)—Government ownership of Britain's 20,000-mile railway system was virtually assured today by the 362 to 204 vote accorded the Labor Government's far-reaching transport bill at its decisive second reading in the House of Commons last night.

While the measure still faces a third reading in Commons—probably some time next month—this will amount to little more than a formality under the usual parliamentary procedure.

The vote last night, climaxing three days of debate, was decided on straight party lines, with Labor presenting a solid front.

Anthony Eden, Britain's wartime foreign secretary, concluded the Conservative attack upon the measure by declaring that its passage would be "nothing less than a major national disaster."

He asserted that the only justification for the bill would be greater operating efficiency and lower costs, but declared the government had failed to show how the result could be achieved.

Herbert Morrison, president of the council, replied that the bill, which also will bring trucking firms and other forms of commercial transport under government ownership—will permit "a bold and considered program of transport development."

There will be under the new regime a splendid opportunity to weld into an efficient and economic entity the transport needs of this country," he declared.

House Committee Agrees to Classification

Washington, Dec. 18 (AP)—The House campaign investigating committee agreed today to recommend that money spent by labor unions to publicize the voting records of congressmen be classed as campaign expenses.

The unions also would be required to state the candidate in whose behalf the information was published.

Rep. Curtis (R.-Neb.) said this proposal was substituted for an earlier one about which misunderstanding arose because it was "inexactly and ambiguously worded."

The original recommendation, first disclosed by Curtis, urged that the Corrupt Practices Act be amended to make it illegal for labor unions to compile, publish or circulate voting records in connection with congressional campaigns.

"I do not believe that any organization or any individual should be prohibited in any way from compiling, publishing or circulating the voting record of a member of Congress," Curtis said in a statement. "Voting records are public records, and the people back home are entitled to them."

Commenting on his previous statement, Curtis said "the material in the tentative recommendations was inexact and ambiguously worded, and gave an incorrect impression."

Average per capita income in the United States in 1940 was $373 per year. In 1945 it was $1,136.

Spectacular Fire Destroys Elevator, Big Grain Supply.

Minneapolis, Dec. 19 (AP)—A spectacular fire, with flames shooting more than 150 feet into the air and visible for several miles, destroyed the Union Grain Elevator filled with nearly 3,000,000 bushels of grain today. Early reports were that the elevator was filled with barley and at current market prices the loss was expected to run into more than $3,000,000. A general alarm was sounded when the fire broke out after midnight and firemen from neighboring St. Paul were sent to man stations in the early morning hours as most of the city's fire equipment was sent to fight the conflagration in the 30-foot tall, two block long structure.

Because of the intense heat firemen were handicapped in getting the blaze under control but succeeded in preventing the flames from spreading to nearby grain elevators. The fire was brought under control after about four hours although it was expected to burn for several days.

The building was owned by the Froebert Grain & Milling Co., of Milwaukee. Cause of the fire was not determined but it was believed to have started from grain which became overheated when it clogged in a chute.

Appeal for 40-Year Housing Laws Is Made at Capital

V.F.W. Commander Sent Proposal to F.H.A., Is Report; Official Cites Limit

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—An appeal for 40-year, low-interest housing loans to veterans popped up today as the government pledged an all-out drive to encourage the construction of homes for rent.

The appeal for long-term loans was addressed to the Federal Housing Administration by Commander Louis E. Starr of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. But an F.H.A. official told a reporter Starr should have directed his request to Congress. He said the law now limits loans to 25 years in the case of one to four-family homes.

Starr said in a statement he had told F.H.A. Chief Raymond M. Foley and Housing Expediter Frank R. Creedon that elimination of most construction controls had ended the veterans emergency program.

"Veterans—the majority of whom are on the lower rung of the economic ladder—must now depend on the 'trickle-down' process for housing," Starr said. By that the V.F.W. chief said he meant that most new homes now will go to non-veterans, hence the veterans' only alternative will be to take advantage of resultant vacancies in less expensive and less desirable units.

Plans Are Related

Creedon and Foley joined with Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, chief of the office of temporary controls, in telling a Senate small business subcommittee yesterday of their plans for carrying out a housing program minus most controls.

"Our big push for 1947 will be rental housing," Creedon declared. Foley testified that the additional $1,000,000,000 which President Truman made available for mortgage insurance authorization "will be used primarily" to finance rental housing.

So, he added, will the "largest possible share" of a like amount voted by Congress last May.

'Enough Materials'

Fleming said that on the basis of present information there will be enough materials to construct 1,000,000 homes in 1947, as against an estimated 700,000 this year.

The O.T.C. chief expressed the hope that "we can now be freed of the almost ceaseless clamor of various pressure groups that has been devised any kind of control ever since the war ended." He added:

"It will be our purpose to wind up controls as quickly as we can, but I should like to serve notice now that we do not intend to sway in every passing breeze kicked up by special interests and by selfish interests."

Chiefs Replace Newark in American Pro Basketball League

Opener Is Slated Christmas Night At City Auditorium

Karam Completes Deal With Newark Officials for Transfer; Paterson First Opponent Here

The Kingston Chiefs are now members of the American Professional Basketball League replacing the Newark Bobcats, and the first home league contest for the Chiefs will be played next Wednesday evening, Christmas night at the municipal auditorium. The Paterson club, managed by Phil Rabin, will furnish the opposition.

Celtic Game Canceled
With Kingston's entrance into the pro circuit, Saturday's game here between the Chiefs and Pete Barry's Original Celtics has been canceled.

A. B. "Turk" Karam, Brooklyn Dodger baseball scout, who has been handling the road assignments of the Chiefs, completed negotiations for Kingston's franchise Wednesday afternoon after conferring with A.P.B.L. officials and representatives of the Newark basketball team.

"I've gone ahead with this deal," the ivory hunter said this morning in a telephone conversation with The Freeman sports department. "I feel it will be popular with professional basketball fans in Kingston and vicinity. Many have asked me about the possibilities of joining some league and now we've hurdled the last obstacle."

Bigger Returns Expected
Kingston's return to league basketball in the professional world is expected to give turnstile figures a shot in the arm. In the three exhibition games to date at the auditorium turnouts have been below normal but now that Kingston is represented in the league, cage fans are expected to jam the Broadway sports center.

Few Player Changes
Although it is not definite what changes will be made in the Chiefs' personnel for league ball, Karam disclosed today that he expects to bring at least two of the Newark Bobcat players to Kingston. Joe Lesser and "Red" Powers, who appeared here last Saturday with the Skeeter State quintet, are the two most likely players to be retained by Karam.

As a result, one or two Kingston players may be dropped off the roster. There isn't any likelihood, however, that such favorites as Jim Coward, Joe Dinkwood, Larry Dodick, Jerry Bussell and Art Lockhead will be given their pink slips.

Cardinals Are Voted Team of the Year

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals, champions of the baseball world, have been voted the team of the year for 1946 in the Associated Press' annual poll of sports editors, succeeding Army's unbeaten footballers, winners the last two seasons.

Notre Dame's mighty grid team gave the Cardinals a close race for honors, earning 19 first-place ballots to 24 for the baseball champs. Army got nine first-place votes to wind up third.

The final point total, compiled from the votes of the 62 participants in the poll, gave the Cards 110, Notre Dame 105 and Army 66.

Local Keglers Will Compete in Albany Matches Saturday

Rose Schatzel Is Slated for Debut in Singles; E. Moore Will Meet Ruby Hunter

Four Kingston bowlers headed by Rose Schatzel, who makes her debut in singles competition, will participate in the all-star Christmas bowling show sponsored by Schades Bowling Academy Saturday night in Albany.

The Kingston representatives will be Mrs. Schatzel, Evelyn Moore, Johnny Ferraro and Charlie Tiano. The matches are scheduled to start at 9:30.

Mrs. Schatzel engages Viola Morrison, Albany city champion, in the first half of a 10-game home and home series.

Evelyn Moore is slated for an exhibition singles encounter against Ruby Hunter, who is rated the No. 2 female kegler in the capital city.

Ferraro and Tiano will team up in a four game doubles exhibition against Joey Schmitt, former Albany city champion, and George Bickel, young sensation who rolled a 300 score two weeks ago.

The Schatzel-Morrison encounter is attracting tremendous interest and Bob Chalmers, Times-Union bowling editor, predicts a record breaking attendance for the duel. The date for the Kingston block will be set Saturday.

Pate Says He Won't Dictate to Players

Melbourne, Dec. 18 (AP)—Opposition by Australian tennis officials to American Davis Cup squad members playing in exhibitions in this country after the cup matches brought the somewhat heated declaration from Walter L. Pate, non-playing captain, today that he had no intention of trying to dictate to his boys.

"As long as they obey the rules of tennis and don't receive money for playing, they can do anything they please as far as I'm concerned," Pate said.

"Three of them, Billy Talbert, Gardner Mulloy and Tom Brown, have agreed to play in the championships at Sydney, Jan. 17," he added. "What they do in the meantime is their business."

What threatens to develop into an awkward controversy arose when officials of the Australian Lawn Tennis Association learned the Americans had agreed to play several exhibitions in small "bush" towns. These were arranged in sporting goods firms and no effort was made to obtain approval either from the Victorian Lawn Tennis Association or the A.L.T.A.

A committee headed by Sir Norman Brooks, president of the A.L.T.A., protested to Pate yesterday but apparently gained no satisfaction from the American captain.

League Members Discussed Matter on Wednesday; Answer Is Expected Within 48 Hours

Apparent action on the possibility of Poughkeepsie High School re-entering DUSO League circles was taken in Port Jervis Wednesday afternoon when officials of the loop convened to reach a decision on the matter.

Following the meeting, Ervin R. Fletcher, president, immediately dispatched a letter to Poughkeepsie advising that school of the action taken.

No Release Yet

Under the agreement reached here in Kingston recently when league officials and representatives of Poughkeepsie High School met, yesterday's action in Port Jervis will not be made public until the league receives an answer from Poughkeepsie officials who also met Wednesday.

Howard DeFreitas, Middletown Times-Herald sports editor, who conferred with Mr. Fletcher last night, said this morning that action would not be forthcoming until at least 48 hours.

Track Meet Here

DUSO League officials who met yesterday awarded the 1947 DUSO Track Meet to Kingston and it will be held May 31 at municipal stadium. G. Warren Kias, local athletic director, will have charge of the event.

The DUSO League football schedule for 1947 will comprise another home and home slate of games as in 1946. This schedule was approved by the league Wednesday. Night games for next year will be optional.

Members also accepted a sportsmanlike plaque donated by State Senator Thomas Desmond which will be awarded for basketball. Conditions for the award have not been completed as yet but a committee, including Jack Hughes, Middletown; Alvin Chase, Port Jervis; and Ken Rutherford, principal of Monticello High School, will meet to discuss the stipulations.

President Fletcher appointed a committee including principals, coaches and athletic directors of all schools to review rules for next season's football season. Recommendations must be submitted within the next 30 days.

The 1947 baseball season will be set up on the same lines as during the past campaign.

The DUSO League golf tournament will be held in Liberty in 1947. The exact date will be announced later.

Herbert Would Make Sports Bribery U.S. Crime

Washington, Dec. 19 (AP)—Rep. Ed Herbert of Louisiana declared today Congress should drive "chislers and fixers" away from pro and amateur sports by making bribery of athletes a federal offense.

He told a reporter he will introduce bills to do this just as soon as Congress convenes January 3—and don't think the penalties won't be tough.

Referring to charges that gamblers approached two New York backfield men before the Giants-Bears playoff for the National Professional Football League title last Sunday, Herbert said:

"This thing has got to stop. And the time to get this through is before the shock wears off."

St. Mary's Routs Lutherans, 87-28 In Church League

Immaculate Conception Is 52 to 32 Winner Over St. Peter's Five; Gilpatrick Gets 22

St. Mary's and the Immaculate Conception basketball teams won their games in the City Church League Wednesday night at the M.J.M. gym.

St. Mary's piled up one of the biggest scores in the history of the loop by walling Trinity Lutheran, 87 to 28. The Immaculate Conception cagers trounced St. Peter's five by 52 to 32.

Gilpatrick, Higgins and Conlon highlighted St. Mary's tremendous victory by scoring 22, 21 and 19 points respectively. Gilpatrick threw in 11 fields for his 22 markers. Cleveland Expected To Defeat Yankees

Cleveland, Dec. 19 (AP)—The Cleveland Browns were favored today to cop the first All-America Conference football championship in their title clash with the dangerous New York Yankees, Eastern Division winners, at Lakefront Stadium Sunday.

The explosive manner in which the Western Division champs rolled for 12 victories in 14 starts and a conference record of 423 points, an average of more than 30 a game, established Paul Brown's gridgers as favorites for the title playoff.

City Baseball Loop To Join K.A.A. in 'Hot Stove League'

Invitation Is Extended Wednesday; Club Okays Purchase of Jerseys for Grade Schools

The Kingston Athletic Association, meeting at the Elks Club Wednesday evening, issued an invitation to the Kingston City Baseball League to join the former organization in next January's annual "Hot Stove League" session.

Warren Smith, president of the league, accepted with thanks. Before a vote was taken on the subject it was pointed out by various members that both groups were planning such an event for January and that a speaker of renown would be secured. The invitation was then extended on the belief that the two groups would form a much stronger body to stage the one affair rather than duplicating each other.

The "Hot Stove League" event will be held sometime in January with the definite date to be announced later. A dinner is being planned and it is hoped that one or two prominent speakers will be secured for the affair. The entire Kingston High School varsity football squad and Coaches Willard Burke and Russ Cunningham will be guests.

Negotiations are currently underway to secure either Bill Summers, American League umpire; Vernon "Lefty" Gomez, former Yankee pitcher; or Jimmy Powers, sports editor of the New York Daily News.

The K.A.A. also went on record last night in favor of the purchase of approximately 50 jerseys to be given to grade schools throughout the city for the promotion of basketball. Only two schools at present have adequate jerseys. The proposal was passed unanimously by members attending last night's meeting. It was forwarded to the project committee which is expected to pass on it favorably.

President Thomas M. Davitt appointed Warren Smith and Bill Reiser to make a survey on the possibility of keeping the grade school playgrounds open to children after school hours. There was some discussion on this question and the committee was instructed to make a survey and to report at the next session.

Robinson Hopes To Garner Title

'Sugar' Ray Will Battle Tommy Bell; His Victory Expected

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—"Sugar" Robinson, for years regarded as the uncrowned king of the welterweights, today is only a few hours away from the moment he believes will bring him official recognition as 147-pound champion. The Harlem Negro battles Youngstown's Tommy Bell for the title in Madison Square Garden tomorrow.

Bell, who has knocked out 26 opponents in 51 bouts, finished drilling at his Summit, N. J. camp yesterday weighing 145 3/4. Robinson likewise wound up heavy training at his Greenwood Lake, N. J. quarters and said he would have no trouble making the weight.

A capacity crowd of close to 18,000 and a gate of nearly $100,000 was expected.

Horse Race Betting Close to 2 Billions At American Track

By SID FEEBER

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—Horse race betting moved up close to the two-billion-dollar business bracket in America this year, but indications were the game may be getting tired laying golden eggs and is on the way back to producing just the usual, or garden, variety.

The annual Associated Press national racing roundup showed 24,839,305 fans fanned a total of $1,830,287,435 into the mutual machines in 19 of the 20 states where the game is run, compared to $1,325,619,336 bet by 18,433,721 customers in 1945, and that the state and a few city treasuries benefited by $113,508,325.20 in revenue, as against $65,265,405.48 a year ago.

The chief reason for the long jump, of course, was the fact that racing got back on a full peace-time schedule of 2,433 operating days after its war-ratioed 1,788 in 1945.

No Public Record

From the 20th state, Nebraska, came word only that the amount bet is not a matter of public record, and that the track promoters decline even to estimate the figure, and that the state doesn't cut in on the pie anyway. All of which makes it cozy, indeed, and indicates the 225,000 folks who contributed on the 73 racing days in Nebraska don't particularly worry about what happens to their money.

In several spots on the national racing map this year, notably New York, Maryland, Delaware and Illinois, the average daily bet-per-person dropped off in varying degrees.

In New York, particularly, the "investors" undoubtedly were slower taking the elastic band off the bankroll because of a brand new, extra five per cent bite from every dollar bet, bringing to 15 per cent the total city, state and track take. As a result, New York wagers fell off from $450,663,190 in 1945 to $407,105,748 this year and the word was the cash contributors, who can add one and one, were giving more business to the bookies, because in that way the 15 cents is not taken out. The daily per capita average fell from $96.16 to $83.05.

Actually, the overall, national per person per day average was slightly up over last year—$74.30 to $70.29.

Bowling

Scores must be received down-town by the Freeman by 9 a. m. following the day matches are rolled. The score sheets must be in legible form with names properly spelled and with correct totals. The Freeman reserves the right to withhold publication of all scores, including special matches and seasonal averages. Scores will not be published unless they are absolutely correct.

Central Rec League

Jack Martin, veteran knicker of the Slover-Jansen-Schline team and Ross Ellis of Steins, featured the Central Rec Bowling League matches Tuesday night at the mid-town drives by fashioning 607 and 605 triples respectively. Martin reeled off a string of 212-155-200 for his 607 while Ellis topped his hefty 605 three-timer on a bulge of 246 with 143 and 216 thrown in. Martin sparked the S.J.S. club to three straight wins over Chez Emile with his terrific 607 series. Perc Slover's 554, Larry Peterson, Sr., with 528 and Art Jansen's 513 aided in the clean sweep. J. Murphy and J. Nerone banged out 507 and 506 respectively for the losers.

Despite Ellis' 246 and 605 marks for Steins, that club dropped a pair of games to the Evergreen Inn squad. Nick Turck, George Castor, and Bob Myers paced the winners with 589, 578 and 567 respectively. Castor posted a 227 single and Turck had a 221. Svirsky's 525 and Davis' 540 were other high games for Steins.

Jones Dair took two games from Smith Avenue Storage.

Levy's 219 and 559 paced the winners while Stan Wine shot a 213 and 547 for the losers. Other good games were rolled by Ferraro 536, Webber 530, Vincent 528, Spada 511 and Cashara 506.

The Ulsters also captured a pair from Worfs. Lou Guadagnola led the winners with a 226 single and 570 triple. Heidecamp's 512 was high for Worfs.

Bowling

Scores must be received down-town by the Freeman by 9 a. m. following the day matches are rolled. The score sheets must be in legible form with names properly spelled and with correct totals. The Freeman reserves the right to withhold publication of all scores, including special matches and seasonal averages. Scores will not be published unless they are absolutely correct.

Central Rec League

Jack Martin, veteran knicker of the Slover-Jansen-Schline team and Ross Ellis of Steins, featured the Central Rec Bowling League matches Tuesday night at the mid-town drives by fashioning 607 and 605 triples respectively. Martin reeled off a string of 212-155-200 for his 607 while Ellis topped his hefty 605 three-timer on a bulge of 246 with 143 and 216 thrown in. Martin sparked the S.J.S. club to three straight wins over Chez Emile with his terrific 607 series. Perc Slover's 554, Larry Peterson, Sr., with 528 and Art Jansen's 513 aided in the clean sweep. J. Murphy and J. Nerone banged out 507 and 506 respectively for the losers.

Despite Ellis' 246 and 605 marks for Steins, that club dropped a pair of games to the Evergreen Inn squad. Nick Turck, George Castor, and Bob Myers paced the winners with 589, 578 and 567 respectively. Castor posted a 227 single and Turck had a 221. Svirsky's 525 and Davis' 540 were other high games for Steins.

Jones Dair took two games from Smith Avenue Storage.

Levy's 219 and 559 paced the winners while Stan Wine shot a 213 and 547 for the losers. Other good games were rolled by Ferraro 536, Webber 530, Vincent 528, Spada 511 and Cashara 506.

The Ulsters also captured a pair from Worfs. Lou Guadagnola led the winners with a 226 single and 570 triple. Heidecamp's 512 was high for Worfs.

Wallace Denies Article Branded by Baruch as 'False'

Coal Controversy Story Said Baruch Had Part in Legal Battle Waged by 'Tough' Men

New York, Dec. 19 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace, new editor of the New Republic Magazine, said last night he "had nothing to do" with an article in the publication dealing with the coal controversy which Bernard M. Baruch branded as "wholly false and deliberately so." The article was in the December 16 issue of the magazine, the first under the former vice-president's direction, and said that President Truman "delegated the leadership" in the legal battle against men around him, general counsel Clark Clifford and the ubiquitous George Allen, both reinforced by conservative Bernard Baruch.

In a letter to Wallace which he made public yesterday, Baruch termed the story false, and declared:

"The truth easily could have been ascertained by asking me. I never communicated with the President on this subject. I expect you to correct this error which, I should think, is an unfortunate way to begin a new job on public confidence."

In reply Wallace said in a statement: "On investigation since receiving Mr. Baruch's letter, I found that our reporter had excellent basis for stating that Mr. Baruch was supporting Clark Clifford and George Allen in their attitude. Mr. Baruch says this is not true. "I received by messenger, three hours after it had been released to the press, Mr. Baruch's letter which assumes I personally committed an error with regard to him. Mr. Baruch would not write to the editor of the New York Times to get a correction of a news report. As an experienced older statesman, who has had an infinite number of contacts with the ways of the press, he must know that I naturally had nothing to do with this story from Washington. "Now that Mr. Baruch has given us his private telephone number, we shall see that hereafter our reporters check with him on every story involving so eminent a figure."

Expectation of life at birth for Americans rose from slightly more than 46 years in 1911 to 65 years in 1945.

Blum's Cabinet Proposes To Chop 50,000 Workers
Paris, Dec. 19 (AP)—Proposals to discharge 50,000 French government employees, cut various subsidy payments and increase income tax payments were understood today to have been drawn up by Premier Leon Blum's new Socialist government to ease France's ticklish financial situation.
